ISLAND FIRES NEARLY UNDER CONTROL NOW

Rangers Get Sooke Outbreak Past Danger Point by Desperate Labors

All Fires Between Here and Nanaimo Reported Checked To-day

All forest fires burning between here and Nanaimo were under control by noon to-day, according to reports received by forestry headquarters in the Parliament Buildings. Unless wind springs up during the day, the dangerous fire which has been threatening the city's Sooke Lake watershed will be past the danger point by to-night or to-morrow morning.

Fire rangers who have been fighting the Sooke outbreak with the aid of over 150 men have succeeded in surrounding the fire almost entirely by a substantial fire break. After dead trees standing on the outskirts of the fire were cut down a ditch two feet wide was dug to prevent the flames creeping along the ground. Barring a wind, this is sufficient to hold the fire in check. The fire fighters are working desperately so as to get the fire completely surrounded before wind comes again to whip it into new fury.

The fires at Langford Lake, Metchosin and above the Malahat Highway are all well under control to-day along with other outbreaks from the city north to Nanaimo.

Only fragmentary reports were received here from the mainland this morning but these indicate that the situation in the interior is growing steadily worse. The latest fire is an outbreak of large proportions on Seymour River, a tributary of Shuswap Lake. Fire fighters are being rushed there as fast as possible but the lack of men in this sparcely-settled area and the difficulty of transportation, makes it almost impossible to fight a fire of any size satisfactorily.

CREWS INCREASED

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—Twenty men left Vancouver this morning to augment a crew of fire fighters at Pender Harbor, where a 2,000-acre fire is out of control and is burning green timber.

An outbreak occurred yesterday at Bowser, V.I., and has covered ten acres.

A small fire at Ladysmith was extinguished.

Fire is burning through the logging operations of the Genoa Bay Logging Company at the head of Cowichan Lake.

Reinforcements are being mustered to combat a fire which last night jumped a fire guard in the Salmon Valley, Sayward district.

SIXTY-FOUR MEN AT WORK

Near Charter Siding, on the Cowichan Bay branch of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, a ten-acre fire is burning and is being fought by sixty-four men.

Eight men have succeeded in controlling a fire at Garrow Bay, Bowen Island.

In the Fraser Valley there is a fire at Mission, a small outbreak

MOVE TO CANCEL ADOPTION OF CHILD

Foster Mother of Girl Objects to Conduct of E. W. Browning, New York

New York, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Anna St. John of Rye, N.Y., foster mother of Dorothy Sunshine Browning, adopted six years ago by Edward W. Browning, wealthy real estate operator, today took steps looking to cancellation of the adoption.

It was with the announced object of providing a companion for Dorothy, who is now nine years of age, that Browning recently adopted Mary Louise Spas, daughter of immigrant Bohemian parents.

This adoption has since been made the subject of inquiry by the Bureau of Public Welfare.

Mrs. St. John to-day appealed to Bird S. Coler, head of the bureau, to take steps to insure the return to her of her daughter.

STORY IS DENIED

The story of twelve-year-old Sylvia Mullen that Browning had promised to adopt her was denied to-day by the latter. He also denied the girl's account of a party last night with him and Mary Louise.

Sylvia, who was nosed out by Mary Louise for the post of playmate to Dorothy, disappeared from her home yesterday morning and returned in the small hours of to-day. She explained her long absence by saying [illegible] ing and Mary Louise at a party, and then with flushed cheeks and sparkling eyes announced that "Daddy" Browning had promised to adopt her within two weeks.

EARTHQUAKE WAS RECORDED IN U.S. TO-DAY

Chicago, Aug. 7.—A rather severe earthquake of an indicated distance of 1,840 miles in a southerly direction from Chicago was recorded at 1.45 a.m. to-day on the seismograph at the University of Chicago.

The record showed a sharp movement at 1.50, five minutes after the first tremor. The quake ended at 4 a.m.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Pronounced earthquake shocks were recorded early to-day on the seismograph at Georgetown University, beginning at 2.54 a.m. and lasting until after 4 o'clock. The maximum violence was attained at 3.09 a.m. The centre was placed by Director Tondorf as 2,400 miles from Washington. The direction was not determined.

ASKS RAILROADS TO CO-OPERATE; RT. HON. G. GRAHAM

RAIL SYSTEM CHIEFS CONFER TO CUT COSTS THROUGHOUT CANADA

Ottawa, Aug. 7—Rt. Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, to-day emphatically denied proposals for amalgamation of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway were under consideration.

"What is being done," said Mr. Graham, "is in line with my statement to Parliament when the railway estimates were brought down. I then said I was going to ask the two railways to get together as much as possible and try to come to some arrangement of co-operation that would include not only passenger traffic, but an exchange of freight on an equality basis that would prevent duplications. To that end and with a view to reducing expenditures, we are endeavoring to secure co-operation of the two lines.

"What will be the outcome of these proposals no one knows yet, but no scheme of amalgamation of the systems has been considered."

CANNOT STOP BOOTLEGGERS' LIQUOR SUPPLY

Impossible to Prevent Them Getting Some Government Liquor, Says Davidson

Vendors Enforcing Law Intelligently, He Replies to Police Board

Liquor officials cannot prevent some Government liquor being sold to bootleggers, Liquor Commissioner Hugh Davidson declared to-day when he answered the city Police Commission's assertion that local bootleggers get their supplies from Government vendors.

Mr. Davidson pointed out that the Liquor Act provides that vendors shall refuse to sell liquor to anyone whom they suspect of bootlegging. Immediately this is done, however, the bootlegger can secure one of his friend's liquor permits and buy more liquor on it.

"To stop this altogether is quite impossible," Mr. Davidson said. "At the same time, our vendors are conducting their stores intelligently and they have the strictest instructions against selling liquor to anyone who appears to them to be bootlegging. It is a matter about which the officials are being constantly cautioned."

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 7.—After vain days of search for work, General Juan Ricardez Broca, former chief of the de La Huerta revolution in Yucatan and in control at the time that Governor Carillo Puerto and [illegible] was found dead in Porto Carillo, Honduras, it was learned here today. Dr. King Will Visit Victoria Next Month

Hon. J. H. King, Federal Minister of Public Works, was unable to call at Victoria when visiting the coast as he was called back to Ottawa, but expects to be in Victoria in September, C. P. W. Schwengers, president, informed the Chamber of Commerce directors this afternoon. Mr. Schwengers stated that on Dr. King's return to Victoria it was hoped to arrange a banquet in his honor to mark the appreciation of his efforts in securing the grain elevator and other port developments in Victoria.

RAIN IS WELCOMED IN SASKATCHEWAN

Fall in Southern Part of Province Benefit Grain as Harvest Approaches

Damage Done by Sharp Summer Storm in District of Saskatoon

Regina, Aug. 7.—Coming in time to give the grain crops a greater opportunity to fill out before the harvest begins and brightening the prospects for a yield higher than the average, heavy local showers, accompanied by thunder and lightning, fell in Southern Saskatchewan areas yesterday.

STORM DAMAGE

Saskatoon, Aug. 7.—Sweeping down upon Saskatoon and the adjacent farming districts with relentless fury late yesterday afternoon, hail, hurled from the West on the crest of a fierce gale, caused considerable damage in the Grandora, Dumfermline and Vanscoy district. Parts were torn off the roofs a barn and tannery in this city, a number of telegraph and telephone poles were levelled and windows were smashed in various parts of the city. The storm lasted only fifteen minutes.

The steorm struck a Canadian National Railway freight train running between Vanscoy and Hawker and tore the roofs from three cattle cars.

The farming districts to the North and West of here were the hardest hit.

PROSPECTS IMPROVE

Winnipeg, Aug. 7.—The weather man is smiling again upon the prairie farmers, and with timely rain and cooling breezes, crop prospects have been enhanced over an extensive area in the three provinces during the last two days.

In Saskatchewan and Manitoba showers last night and this morning proved very beneficial to the grain in its filling-out stage. Continuance of favorable weather conditions will ensure a general start of harvesting operations within another week.

With the exception of Southern Alberta, the outlook at present is favorable throughout the prairie region.

IOWA YOUTH KILLS FATHER

Parkersburg, Ia., Aug. 6.—Warren Vandervoort, seventeen, to-day confessed he had shot and killed his father, Rev. R. J. Vandervoort, Methodist Episcopal minister, here last night, James Mitchell, Parkersburg marshal, announced to-day.

The youth also admitted, the marshal said, he had shot and wounded his mother when she appeared in the doorway of the pastor's home apparently to investigate the [illegible] killed her husband. Then he followed her into a bedroom and shot her again.

The boy gave no explanation for the shooting.

RATE CLAIMS LAID BEFORE COMMISSION

Rail Board's Attention Called to Discriminations Said to Exist at Present

This is First Step in Investigation Preceding Equalization in Canada

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Submissions in regard to alleged unfair discriminations in Canadian freight rates continue to come to the Board of Railway Commissioners. These submissions were invited by the board as a preliminary step in the investigation which will precede the equalization of rates ordered by the Government.

The latest submissions are from the Regina Board of Trade and the Salada Tea Company.

The former makes representations in regard to the class rates from Fort William to prairie centres, the class rates on Minnesota transfer to Canadian prairie points and the commodity rates from British Columbia points to Regina and Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG HAS ADVANTAGE

Under the rate structure now in effect, it is claimed by the Regina board, Winnipeg is enabled to distribute considerably farther into what is logically and legitimately Regina territory than is equitable. An adjustment of the commodity rates from British Columbia so as to provide greater equity as between Regina and Winnipeg is requested. The Regina Board of Trade also requests commodity rates from Eastern Canada on canned goods now in force from British Columbia points.

TEA BUSINESS

The Salada Tea Company alleges the existence of rate discrimination which militates against its competing with competitors in certain parts of Canada on equal terms. The rate, ocean and rail, on tea from Ceylon or India, is approximately a penny and a farthing, it is stated.

"Our competitors in Vancouver can bring in tea on what is known as import rate, hold it for a considerable time—quite long enough for them to blend and pack it—and then ship it down here at a rate that is practically equivalent to a penny and a farthing," says the submission. "As it costs us 3.57 cents in addition to reach British Columbia, it means we have exactly that disadvantage as compared with them."

B. M. Baxter and five independents who Monday next will contest the forty-eight seats in the New Brunswick Legislative Assembly are now in the home stretch of what has proved one of the most strenuous campaigns in the political history of the province. Premier Veniot and Mr. Baxter are putting every ounce of their energy into the closing phase of the campaign.

DAVIDSON REFUSES BEER LICENSE FOR NEW GORGE HOTEL

Will Not Allow Beer Sale by the Glass Near Playground, He Says

"Decision is Final so Far as I am Concerned," Commissioner Asserts

No beer will be sold by the glass in the handsome new hotel erected at the Gorge by Mainland interests, Liquor Commissioner Hugh Davidson announced to-day. The proprietors of the establishment who had planned to sell beer in an attractive beer parlor have been refused a license, Mr. Davidson stated.

"That decision," he added, "is final so far as I am concerned."

Mr. Davidson explained that he considered it undesirable to permit the sale of beer by the glass at the very edge of the Gorge Park because of its use by large numbers of children as a playground.

The Liquor Commissioner's decision will come as a complete surprise to beer drinkers who had anticipated the opening of an attractive resort at the Gorge. It is understood that the mainland interests which built the new hotel had gone ahead with the construction of the building on the assumption that they would be granted a license.

Chinese Servants of British in City of Peking on Strike

Peking, Aug. 7.—Sixty Chinese servants at the British legation here, including several employees of the Legation chancery, have gone on strike, their action being considered the result of intimidation by leaders of the student anti-foreign agitation.

This is the first indication of the effective spread of the strike as a weapon against the British to Peking.

Revenues of Canada Now Reaching Higher Levels

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Canada's ordinary revenue during the four months of the present fiscal year ended on July 31 last showed an increase of $2,933,163 over the corresponding period of last year, according to the books of the Department of Finance. Ordinary revenue during the four months of 1925 amounted to $141,789,416. For the same period of 1924 the amount was $138,856,253. The figure for July alone showed an increase of $275,632 in ordinary revenue over July 1924. Last month ordinary revenue collected amounted to $29,147,743, as against $28,872,111 in July 1924.

EXPENDITURE FIGURES

A statement issued to-day by the Finance Department shows a decrease in ordinary expenditures for the four months period of $890,848. Ordinary expenditures for that part of the fiscal year which had elapsed on July 31 amounted to $95,655,692. Last year they amounted to $96,546,541. The monthly figures, however, show an increase of $2,126,299 in ordinary expenditures last month as compared with July 1924.

Pension payments during the month of July of the present year amounted to $6,160,135, being much higher than in July 1924, when they were $2,830,256.

DEBT OF CANADA

The total net debt of Canada on July 31 of the present year was $2,375,249,305, a decrease from the net debt a year ago of $16,202,375. The decrease during July alone was $3,370,332.

Payments of interest on the public debt fell from $3,010,252 in July 1924 to $478,591 last month. This, it is stated, was due to decreased interest rates as well as reductions in the amount of some of the loans.

The statement of the net debt does not include guarantees of Canadian National Railway issues, which are shown separately in the annual statement of public accounts as indirect liabilities.

NOMINATED FOR NOVA SCOTIA SEAT; WILLIAM DUFF, M.P.

Bridgewater, N.S., Aug. 7. — William Duff, M.P., was chosen by the Liberals of Queen's and Lunenburg Counties yesterday as their candidate in the next Federal general election, at the first convention to be held since the two counties were joined by redistribution. Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance and member for Queen's County, sent a letter to the convention in which he expressed regret at his inability to offer himself again for election.

CHOOSING MEN FOR BRITAIN'S COAL INQUIRY

Government's Task Not Easy One; Effort Made to Satisfy All Parties

With Subsidy Voted by Commons, Ministry is Scored by Several Newspapers

London, Aug. 7.—With £10,000,000 voted by the Commons for the coal subsidy, the attention of the Government is now centred on the commission it promised would examine into the state of the coal industry throughout Great Britain.

The selection of the members of the commission, if all the parties are to be satisfied, will undoubtedly be a matter of great difficulty. The Government is expected, however, to take time for its selections, and it is hoped the feelings aroused over the subvention question may have lost their acuteness by the time the commission is completed.

PRESS CRITICISM

The Government is severely scored on a variety of grounds by editorial commentators to-day and Premier Baldwin is especially attacked for telling the miners and owners no subsidy would be granted and then granting one.

Aside from this, The Westminster Gazette charges the Government did nothing to avert a deadlock although it saw it coming.

STATESMANSHIP NEEDED

Declaring the Ministry lacks statesmanship and a sense of business, The London Daily Mail exclaims: "No wonder the country's business is suffering when its methods of administration are what they are."

The London Daily Express says Premier Baldwin's justification does credit to his heart, not his statesmanship. The newspaper finds proof in the Premier's speech that he is an opponent of the workers.

The London Times thinks Mr. Baldwin made an unanswerable case.

The London Post and The London Telegraph emphasize the necessity of the whole community taking measures for the protection of the constitutional democratic government against the junta of labor agitators.

M. Briand will be accompanied by M. Berthelot, general secretary of the Foreign Ministry, and a few experts.

NINE C.N.R. CARS BRING STEEL FOR WORK AT DOCKS

Federal Government to Rush Completion of Project Making Victoria Major Lumber Port; Construction Starts Immediately.

Material for an immediate start on the construction of a lumber assembly plant at the Ocean Docks, Ogden Point, is on the ground to-day with the arrival this morning of nine carloads of steel here from Port Mann. An immediate start will be made, it is understood, in trackage changes at the yards to prepare the way for the construction of the main project. The shipment consists of steel, rails and other equipment for the first stage of operations.

IMMEDIATE WORK

News of the arrival of the material was received with acclaim on all sides, as material confirmation of the plans of the Federal authorities to immediately push to completion the project mooted by leading Victoria business men for some years.

What the lumber assembly plant means to the port of Victoria has been stated many times. Shipping men are jubilant over the confirmation of the plan. Although Victoria has considerable movement of lumber the added facility of an assembly plant will treble the business carried on in this way and will turn a large percentage of island lumber operations through this port as the gateway to world markets, instead of finishing and exportation from mainland plants as heretofore.

TRACKAGE

The actual changes to get under way in the course of the next forty-eight hours will be confined to trackage in preparation for the major project when all the material is on hand.

H. L. Johnson, district engineer of the Canadian National Railways, was at the scene to-day and he will probably be in charge of the work.

Mr. Johnson was accompanied by Mr. Morrison, of the Vancouver branch of the engineering department of the line. Gangs of men to unload the barge on its arrival were on hand this morning and the work of taking off the material got under way without delay.

The preliminary trackage changes to be made, it is understood, will be by way of laying additional rails so that lumber loaded cars may be moved at will at the point of assembly.

BETTER BUSINESS

The lumber assembly project was one of the chief aims of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and considerable satisfaction was expressed this morning when news of the arrival of the material was learned. It is one of the better-business plans which the Chamber of Commerce consistently urged for the benefit of the city in the last few years.

The deepening of Victoria's Inner Harbor at lumber loading mill wharves, announced by The Times yesterday, will have an important bearing on the assembly project, facilitating the passage of laden scows to and from the mills ot the Ogden Point docks.

MORE TONNAGE

With two elevator projects in course of negotiation, a lumber assembly plant definitely assured and a better trend of business atmosphere prevading the city the Port of Victoria is due for a large increase in deep-sea tonnage handled, shipping men are confident to-day.

NANAIMO WOMAN KILLED ON HIGHWAY

Mrs. F. Plummer Lost Life in Auto Accident on Alberni Mountain

The accident was due to the car stalling on the hill and backing down the steep grade. While endeavoring to bring it to a stop, Mr. Plummer backed it into a bank, where it [illegible] out. Mrs. Plummer's neck was broken.

The body was taken to Alberni, where an inquest will be held.

CAPE BRETON COAL MEN TO WORK MONDAY

Contract Between Empire Steel Corporation and Men Signed To-day

Expected Whistles of Several Collieries Will be Heard Early Next Week

Glace Bay, N.S., Aug. 7.—Immediate resumption of work in the coal mines of Cape Breton was made possible by the conclusion of a contract between the British Empire Steel Corporation and its striking workers to-day. A contract based on the compromise wage agreement recently adopted by both sides was signed here this morning after a brief conference between representatives of the two sides.

The contract, in which was embodied the Rhodes wage proposals, the 1922 scale of rates and conditions as under the 1924 agreement, is for six months.

DISCUSS DETAILS

The conferees adjourned shortly after noon to meet again this afternoon. The discussion after luncheon will involve the manner in which the miners are to return to the pits.

It is expected the whistles will blow at several of the collieries for work on Monday morning.

STOCKS GO UP

Toronto, Aug. 7.—The settlement of the coal mine strike in Nova Scotia and meeting of the British Empire Steel Corporation officials with union officials and projected resumption of operations was reflected today by an advance in British Empire steel stock and a lightening of holdings. On the Toronto Stock Exchange the first preferred issues advanced 2¼ points to 27¼ and the second preferred a quarter at 9½.

FRENCH TROOPS IN SYRIA LOST GROUND

Suediah Taken by Rebels; French Evacuate Southern Haueram District

Jerusalem, Aug. 7—Further reports from Amman, Transjordania, supplementing those of yesterday which told of the capture of Suediah by Syrian rebels, say the French have evacuated Southern Haueram, a district of Syria lying to the south of Damascus and east of the upper Jordan River.

The capture of Suediah was effected under the leadership of Sultan Pasha el Atrasha, several tanks and machine guns are said to have been taken and a number of aeroplanes brought down.

COLUMN SURPRISED

Paris, Aug. 7.—Foreign Minister Briand, questioned about reports that Syrian rebels in the district of Jebel Druz had captured guns and material from a French column, said that although the Government's information was not yet complete, it seemed one French column had been surprised by the Syrian rebels.

M. Briand said, however, he believed that General Sarrail, the French High Commissioner in Syria, had sufficient troops at his disposal to deal with the situation.

MAYOR WISHED VOTERS TO HAVE SAY ON PLAN

Would Have Taken Goldstream Action to Ratepayers

Had Mayor Pendray's original scheme for taking over the Goldstream properties of the Esquimalt Water Company gone through as planned, a referendum of the ratepayers would have been taken at the end of the present year, and the aldermen would have had opportunity to cancel the expropriation proceedings.

When expropriation was being discussed with R. T. Elliott, legal adviser for the Esquimalt company, Mayor Pendray recalled that he had informed the City Council of his support for a referendum to the people before any binding action developed.

To meet the situation Mr. Elliott suggested an exchange of documents when expropriation should be effected, the company giving the city an agreement limiting damages to $1 should the expropriation not be approved by the council or the ratepayers.

BLOW TO STATUS

When matters came to a head a few days ago the arrangement met with company opposition, it being pointed out that such a clause would certainly encourage irreconcilables to carry on a campaign of denunciation in the hope of defeating the deal. While not particularly interested in current comments on the Goldstream system, it was pointed out that cancellation of the expropriation would make almost hopeless any possibility of selling the Goldstream system to other parties.

Mayor Pendray then withdrew his insistence upon the exchange of agreements, and carried out the expropriation without the withdrawal concession.

ISLAND FIRES NEARLY UNDER CONTROL NOW

near Chilliwack and fires in Delta and Langley which have been brought under control, so the situation is favorable.

IN RAILWAY BELT

Calgary, Aug. 7.—While Alberta forests are still clear of fire, the railway belt in British Columbia is an inferno of forest fires.

Reports received at the forestry branch headquarters in Calgary indicate the situation in the Revelstoke, Salmon Arm and Kamloops areas is as bad as it has been for some years.

Salmon Arm reports twenty small fires and eleven large ones, most of which are out of control. Some of the worst blazes are at Armstrong, Mara Mountain, Enderby, White Lake, Kingfisher, Craigellachie, Crowfoot, Three Valley, Trinity Valley, Noisy Creek and Wap River.

170 FIGHTERS BUSY

More than 170 men are employed fighting those fires, but conditions are so hazardous that little progress is being made.

The fire at Squaw Bay, Adams Lake, where valuable timber is being burned, is blazing fiercely.

Near Kamloops the conditions are slightly improved, but serious fires are still being fought.

Revelstoke reports a dozen large fires and half a dozen smaller ones. A lightning storm last Sunday was responsible for starting many of them.

In the Golden district a little rain has fallen.

In police court this morning Forlini was charged as a fugitive from justice and waived extradition.

BUSINESSMEN FIGHT SUCCESSION DUTY TAX

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—Unanimous in expressing the view that the British Columbia succession duties and the excessive provincial income tax are drags on the wheels of industrial progress, leading business men of the city, meeting yesterday under the auspices of the Associated Property Owners, decided to take concerted action to bring home to the Government the vital importance of modifying its taxation system.

Speakers from Eastern cities, where taxation is high and succession duties are applied was the keynote of the gathering.

As a result of the meeting a memorial on the taxation question will be prepared for presentation to the Government at an early date.

Boy Musicians Put Pep In Cordova Bay

Twenty-five boy musicians, sunburned almost beyond recognition have returned reluctantly to Victoria from ten memorable days under canvas on the sands of Cordova Bay. For ten great days the boys have had nothing to do but swim, eat and play except the eight who have paper routes and came in every day for an hour.

The boys had their instruments with them and gave one or two appreciated concerts for the campers, but outside of that they had the whole day free to enjoy the fruits of their labors during the year. All expenses were met out of money the boys had earned themselves. As the Victoria boy's orchestra they have been in frequent demand and the payments made to the musicians have been pooled for the great Summer treat.

HOT DOGS

Every day has been crowded. The lads come back with memories of bonfire, big feeds, hot dogs, boating, swimming, hiking, campfires, sing-songs and everything else that goes to make camping the greatest delight of Summer.

APPETITES

The first morning the boys were up at 4 o'clock to get the best of the day. Cereals, eggs, bread, butter and stewed prunes served at 5 o'clock breakfast disappeared with amazing rapidity and in enormous quantities to those not familiar with the abilities of healthy young boys. On top of that when lunch was called at 12 o'clock every boy was on deck to a second. Fifteen pounds of roast beef vanished at one meal. Potatoes, cabbages and carrots which went to make up the healthy meals served the boys were used up in sack lots. Two gallons of milk were needed daily for the great urns of cocoa and tea made to pour down rapacious young throats.

STIRRED UP CORDOVA

With every boy full of life they stirred up Cordova Bay and were the favorites of the beach. Everybody was ready to help them. Captain Kirkendale genereously loaned them a power boat for the whole of the glorious vacation. The tents were loaned by Centennial Church. J. W. Gillis, chairman of the committee, transported the lads who had to come to town to deliver papers back to camp in his car. Conductor Rowles cooked like an expert for the whole of the session. Mr. and Mrs. Gillis, E. J. C. Browne-Cave, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Burnett visited the camp every day. Mayor J. Carl Pendray paid the camp a visit and fed the crowd on peanuts and pink lemonade. He also complimented the boys on the neatness of the camp.

Every boy was up bright and early, he was told. Tents were tidied, blankets folded and the camp made clean and shipshape as that of a platoon of the guards. They had their musical instruments with them and generously responded to every call.

Now the boys are back in town and there is a blank in camp life at the Bay.

BIG ATTACK SOON ON MOROCCAN FRONT

French Troops Reported Ready to Advance Against Rebellious Tribesmen

Fez, Aug. 7.—French operations on a large scale designed to bring the rebellious Riffian tribesmen to a realization that further fighting is useless are said to be ready for launching. General Naulin, in supreme command of the French forces in Morocco, has just returned from Rabat, where he had a long conference with Marshal Lyautey, resident French Governor.

The French troops operating in the Fez-el-Bali region continue to meet with unvaried success. They stormed an exceptionally strong enemy position in the Kourmieu region, the enemy fleeing in disorder, leaving fifty dead on the field.

Abd-el-Krim, the Moroccan leader, is showing no disposition to engage in official peace negotiations.

PRAIRIE SUICIDE

Swift Current, Aug. 7—E. R. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the village of Success, twenty miles north of this city, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head in a building at the rear of his dwelling. Mrs. Jones, the widow, made the discovery.

DANIEL FERGUSON IS TOURING WEST AT EIGHTY YEARS

Visitor Was Collector of Customs at St. Thomas For Thirty Years

Daniel Ferguson, for thirty years Collector of Customs at St. Thomas, Ont., where the Ferguson family settled over one hundred years ago, is getting his first glimpse of the West, late in life. He is eighty years of age and is still hale and hearty. Mr. Ferguson is the guest of his son, Kenneth Ferguson, manager of the local branch of the Imperial Life Assurance Company.

Prior to coming to Victoria, Mr. Ferguson Sr. visited his daughter in Utah and then went on to Los Angeles and San Francisco. He will probably remain out here for the Winter and return to Ontario in May of next year.

This morning Mr. Ferguson inspected Upper Harbor mills and to-morrow he proposes to size up the Crystal Garden.

URGES LINKING RP OF P.G.E. STEEL

Completion of the laying of the forty miles of P.G.E. track at Cottonwood Canyon was recommended by S. P. Drake in an interesting report of his trip to Cariboo and the interior with the Vancouver Board of Trade party at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

When this was done trade from Prince George would come down the coast and it would help to open up the country. The farmers in the Prince George area wanted the road and said "if you complete the road that's all we want. We don't look for any other help."

The material was on hand for the completion of this part of the track, he said.

Mr. Drake remarked that no one but those who had taken the trip could have an idea of the interior and the great farming areas.

SAM HILL HERE, LIKES ROAD PLAN

Sam Hill of Seattle, noted globe-trotter and good roads leader of the Pacific Northwest, is in Victoria to-day. Mr. Hill recently returned from Sweden where he was preaching the gospel of good roads. Mr. Hill is much interested in the proposed transprovincial highway of British Columbia, with the ultimate object of its extension across Canada. He hopes to see it connected with feeders from the south, of which one will be the Pacific Highway. Another coming north from Minneapolis through Winnipeg is almost an assured fact.

TRADE TREND IS FAVORABLE

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Strength of the Canadian dollar in New York is reflected in trade returns issued by the Bureau of Statistics. These show United States purchases in Canada during the last twelve months were $428,725,635, or about $6,000,000 more than the previous year. On the other hand Canadian purchases in the United States were $517,680,180, or $53,000,000 less than in the year previous

WOMAN LOST LIFE IN STREET FIGHT

New York Gangster Held Her Before Him as Pursuing Police Fired

New York, Aug. 7.—A mother of four children, used as a human shield by a robber fleeing in a hail of police bullets yesterday, lost her life, and a detective is dying as a result of a gunfight under the Pennsylvania Railroad terminal here.

Two youthful gangsters were captured, police saving them from a crowd of 2,500 persons who threatened lynching. Two others escaped.

Detective Richard E. Henneberry and a patrolman in a police car last night attempted to stop the automobile in which the four suspects were riding. The gangsters opened fire and Henneberry fell.

The men scattered as other police appeared. Edward Hart, eighteen, the youngest, grabbed Mrs. Mary Connelly, thirty-five, as she stepped from her doorway, held her in front of him and returned the police fire. A moment later the woman was struck.

Continue Efforts For Fumigation

Shippers on the Pacific coast received more consideration during the foot and mouth disease epidemic last year than the shippers on the Atlantic coast, the Chamber of Commerce were advised in a letter from the Federal Department of Agriculture. The letter was received in reply to a protest against the present fumigation order concerning goods from the Orient packed in fodder. These goods must now go to Vancouver for fumigation and in wires to the department the chamber urged that fumigation be permitted in Victoria and the added expense eliminated. There were facilities at this port it was pointed out. The letter, in reply, said there was no Government plant and the department was not inclined to permit fumigation in Victoria. It was decided to continue to press for fumigation in Victoria when called for.

NOW THREE CHIEF PARTIES IN CHINA

Dr. E. W. Wallace, Canadian, Writes From Shanghai on Political Conditions

Toronto, Aug. 7.—Three main parties are emerging in China as a result of the events of the last two months, it is stated by Dr. Edward Wilson Wallace, a Canadian, in a letter received in Toronto from the centre of the anti-foreign agitation, Shanghai.

The first party is that now in power, said to be strongly pro-Japanese; the second is the left wing of the Republican Party, increasingly pro-Russian, and the third is a Chinese party bent on regaining national prestige.

Dr. Wallace ventures to suggest only two alternatives are open to China now, namely, either to restore order and seek justice from the powers or to let the disturbances go on and suffer further invasion of her sovereignty.

CHURCH WORK DELAYED

Toronto, Aug. 7.—"It is quite possible all missionary work may have to be given up for months to come, if not longer," writes Rev. W. R. McKay, secretary-treasurer of the South China mission of the United Church of Canada, in a letter to Rev. A. E. Armstrong, secretary of of the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board in Toronto.

Mr. McKay, who has been stationed in South China for thirty-three years, expresses himself in an outspoken manner concerning the present disturbances and reports the people have been stirred as never before against the foreigners, and especially against the British.

COAL SUBSIDY PLAN WAS GIVEN APPROVAL

British House of Commons Voted 351 to 16 in Favor of Payments

London, Aug. 7.—By a vote of 351 to 16, the House of Commons last night approved the Government's supplementary estimate of £10,000,000 to provide for a subvention to the coal mining industry.

So great a triumph in its endeavor to settle the controversy, which seemed a short while ago likely to culminate in a nation-wide coal strike, had not been expected by the Government, although victory had been assured.

The debate in the House was less exciting than had been anticipated. Its outstanding feature was the fact that all the critics of the subvention method of settling the dispute between the miners and the mine owners were fain to admit that in the unusual circumstances the Government had no alternative. The opposing vote of sixteen provoked much hilarity among the members.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

Seldom have the opposition leaders had a better case for lashing the Government than when yesterday Premier Baldwin sought parliamentary authority for the subsidy and they took full advantage of it. But it was a curious fact that all of them had to acknowledge that, considering the circumstances as they had presented themselves last Friday, the Ministry had had no other course to take to avert industrial disaster.

Mr. Baldwin, foreseeing all that might be said against his policy, started the debate with a defence of the course he had taken, as soothing and non-committal as possible. Answering a charge of cowardice, the Premier retorted:

"It is much easier to be rattled into a fight than to be rattled into peace."

CRITICISM OFFERED

Former Premier Lloyd George and the former Labor Premier, Ramsay MacDonald, were among those who found fault with the Government's action. Mr. MacDonald, while he opposed the subsidy in principle, admitted there was no other alternative for the Government after having been inactive for a long time when it might have endeavored to effect a settlement of the mining dispute. Mr. Lloyd George characterized the subsidy, because it had been made without stipulations regarding the conditions of trade during the months it was in effect, as nationalization in its worst form.

A handful of Conservatives abstained from voting.

Ape-man Lived In South Africa

Capetown, Aug. 7.—South Africa has yielded another cranial curiosity which is attracting attention among anatomists and antiquarians almost equal to that aroused by the discovery this year of a fossilized skull at Taungs, Bechuanaland, described at the time as representing something midway between man and the great apes.

When the body of a native was dissected at the Capetown University it was found to have a typical "Boskop" skull, fully identical with that discovered in the Transvaal in fossil form in 1913 and traced to the Ice Age of probably 35,000 years ago.

Anatomists emphasize the interest and importance of the recurrence of a type of man hitherto unknown except in fossil remains.

WOMAN WAS INJURED WHEN AUTO CRASHED

WAR VET REGAINS CHILDREN—Claude N. Logan, war veteran, has at last unraveled several miles of red tape and regained his children, Nathan Barzen, five (right), and Veimar Barzen, two. He married a German girl, Cecilie Barzen, while with the army of occupation in Germany, but military officials wouldn't sanction the wedding and he had to leave his family behind. Then the mother died, and he sent money for the children to come to his home at Springfield, O. Immigration officers held them up again, and it was only through the intervention of Senator Fess of Ohio that Logan finally got them.

RESERVE ON CAMPBELL RIVER FISHING AREA

Will be Exclusive Rod and Line Sport

Dominion Government Order Bars Commercial Fishermen

Continued efforts by Hon. William Sloan, Commissioner of Fisheries, have at length been successful in the direction of having the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries put a reserve on an area of the estuary at the mouth of Campbell River for the benefit of fishing sportsmen. This area was always a noted resort for fishermen until within the past couple of years, when the operations of commercial fishermen with nets completely spoiled the rod-and-line sport.

The commissioner has been informed by Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, of the approval of an Order-in-Council which prohibits fishing by means of nets of any kind or description in the waters of Discovery Passage at the mouth of Campbell River, within a designated area which includes all the salt water approaches to the river covering 8¼ square miles. Hon. Mr. Sloan expresses his satisfaction with the action taken by the Ottawa authorities, and considering the value to the Province of the waters affected from the point of view of the sportsman, this satisfaction will no doubt be shared by all.

SPRING AND COHOE

These waters are frequented by both spring and cohoe salmon and the sport drew fishermen from all parts of the world. No other place on the Coast produced so many or so large fish, the spring salmon being exceptionally big fish. The record spring caught with rod and line at Campbell River weighed seventy pounds and was 4 feet 2 inches in length.

It is believed that the run of salmon will quickly be restored to its old-time plenty, and there is no question that anglers will again be drawn to the district in greater numbers than ever. An excellent motor road extends to Campbell River and hotel accommodation is good, both there and at the many other fishing resorts along the east coast of Vancouver Island. The best fishing is usually to be had during July, August and September.

Vancouver Urges Rail Rate Action

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—On behalf of the citizens of Vancouver, Mayor L. D. Taylor yesterday sent a telegram to Premier King stressing the urgency of the elimination of inequalities in railway freight rates before the prairie crop movement of 1925 begins.

In his message Mayor Taylor intimated that failing a reply he would consider satisfactory he would take the initiative in calling a great mass meeting of protest by citizens of Vancouver and the surrounding cities and municipalities.

Equalization of rates has been promised again and again, Mayor Taylor declares, but with tens of thousands of binders in readiness to start reaping the crop of Alberta and Saskatchewan within the next few days, rate inequality still prevails.

Farmers will be deprived of the benefits of the British Columbia route unless immediate action is taken by the Government or the Railway Commission, he states.

Mayor Taylor says he is confident the city councils of North Vancouver, New Westminster and surrounding municipalities would join with Vancouver in organizing the proposed mass meeting of protest if such should become necessary.

A SECOND ELEVATOR

LIVELY INTEREST HAS been aroused by the announcement in The Times yesterday that a second grain elevator is likely to be erected at Ogden Point by a concern with important connections in Great Britain and the continent of Europe. The negotiations, which have been conducted by the company with the Dominion Government through the Chamber of Commerce, have reached a point which justifies the expectation that construction operations will be started towards the end of the year on a first unit with a capacity of 400,000 bushels.

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, has expressed the readiness of the Dominion Government to lease to the company a site on the same terms as those which have been embodied in the lease of a site to the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited. We may safely assume that the Canadian National Railways will give to the company the same favorable conditions in regard to rates and transportation facilities they have undertaken to give to the other concern, and that the City Council will treat both companies alike in respect of taxation concessions for which application has been made.

With two grain elevators and the lumber assembly plant, material for which is now arriving here, the Ogden Point piers are destined to be the scene of considerable industrial activity. This will mean a constantly expanding volume of shipping at this port; it will divert a larger volume of the lumber export business in our direction, and will substantially stimulate the lumber industry of the Island. All this is bound to improve the economic conditions of Victoria, widen the avenues of trade, revive the confidence of our people in the future of the city and eventually imbue everybody with a buoyant appreciation of the value of property. The operation of two grain elevators also should prove a boon to the growing poultry industry of Vancouver Island in providing an abundant supply of feed at reasonable prices.

Extensive industrial activity at Ogden Point also should help to remove the impression, which seems to have lodged in some quarters, that this city should be merely a playground, a community in which recreation should be the principal objective and economic progress a secondary consideration. This attitude is disastrous in every sense. It is fatal to trade and commerce upon which the growth—in fact the very solvency—of the city rests. It sharply conflicts with the spirit of the times, and not only keeps settlers away but drives the youth of the community to other fields of activity where there is a proper appreciation of the inexorable fact that never in the history of the world has there been so insistent a need for work as there is now. With debt and taxation of unexampled magnitude, there is no place in the world to-day, especially on this continent, for a community whose chief ambition is to be a playground. Mankind needs play only for purposes of relaxation, but this must be secondary to the stern necessities of economic conditions. Hence there is more in the prospect of industrial activity at Ogden Point than meets the eye at first glance. It should give a new character and a new outlook to Victoria, something that is very urgently needed.

PERHAPS

IS THERE NO WAY OF shutting off the supply of gloom which is being spilled all over the country from certain quarters? One steady stream flows from the factory over which Dr. Tolmie presides. It is true that this is very thin and not serious, save, however, that by the time it gets across the other side of the Atlantic it gains in substance under treatment and is used by gloomsters over there to try and show what a fearful place Canada is. But something really ought to be done about the latest announcement to come over the wire. This time a weather expert is responsible for sending another shudder down our back. He says that there is every likelihood that 1926, and for two or three years afterwards, our share of sunshine is going to be very small indeed and our supply of natural moisture in excess of anything known in Summer months for the last 262 years. Far be it from us to invade the realms of meteorological science with a doubting mind. But may we remind our readers that some people versed in these things warned us that this present extremely pleasant Summer would be one of the kind that is supposed to turn up only every 262 years. Knowing what we do, we shall put the latest prediction with those which come from Dr. Tolmie's emporium. All this is with due deference to the learned savants from whom it comes.

SIGNS THAT COUNT

BANK CLEARINGS ARE usually regarded as one fairly reliable form of economic barometer. A large increase or decrease in any one week may not reflect the normal business of the moment. Government and municipal financing influences the returns to a considerable extent from time to time. But in a general way the clearing house statement is a fair indication as to how the country has passed the week economically. The seven days ending yesterday may therefore be taken as an average trading period for comparative purposes. This shows that out of the twenty-nine cities reporting no fewer than nineteen showed increases over the corresponding week of last year. In the case of the other ten there were slight decreases. This condition does not harmonize with the statements made by Conservative speakers who are continually telling us that until the tariff barrier is made higher this country will continue on its way to what they foolishly call ruin. On the other hand last week's bank clearings actually harmonize with the statements which expert observers, including banking institutions, have made recently—that Canada is progressing.

POOR FACTORY STUFF

ONE OF OUR CONSERvative contemporaries seems rather pleased with the comments of The Toronto Mail and Empire on the subject of Premier King's attitude towards inter-Empire trading and selects this editorial offering for its especial commendation: "Under such a politician, bound to an anti-protection programme, pledged to reciprocity with the United States, and taking every occasion to show bad manners towards the Mother Country and the Empire, there can never be the close commercial relations that ought to exist between Britain and Canada, and Canada cannot have prosperity. His Government is the one encumbrance and hindrance to Canada's development within the Empire."

It would be interesting to learn what The Mail and Empire means by charging Mr. King with bad manners towards the Mother Country. Would it call his determination to make it easier for Great Britain to sell goods in this country, by increasing the British preference, an affront either to industrial or political Britain? And is our Toronto contemporary indulging in a new form of humor when it declares that the King Government "is the one encumbrance and hindrance to Canada's development within the Empire."

The Conservative Party and The Mail and Empire surely have not forgotten that Mr. Meighen threatened to wipe out the British preference altogether unless the Government at Westminster would undertake to give a similar preference to Canadian goods, irrespective of whether such a policy would result in increasing the cost of living in the Old Country and thus, quite naturally too, embitter the consumer over there against any form of political interference inimical to his own interests—embitter him against that part of the Empire which had caused his pound sterling to go a shorter distance. If it was bad manners for Mr. King to increase the preference, without demanding a quid pro quo from Britain, what sort of behavior would it consider Sir Robert Borden's increase of the duties against British goods during the war—at a time when submarines were playing havoc with the Mother Country's trade and commerce—at a time when it was necessary for her to do every bit of business she could in order to assist her to finance her share of the war? We presume The Mail and Empire would call this treatment a friendly gesture.

And we are told that the King Government "is the one encumbrance and hindrance to Canada's development within the Empire." We shall change this sentence and say that the King Government is the one encumbrance and hindrance to the monopolistic plans of a few concerns East of the Great Lakes that care nothing about the cost of developing Canada as long as their exorbitant profits shall be assured.

WELCOME CO-OPERATION

To the Editor:—As one of the residents interested in fighting the fire at Metchosin, mentioned in your Wednesday issue, I feel that, in justice to the ladies who so courageously assisted, the misleading assertion and sub-title "Women in Panic" should be corrected. Their co-operation throughout the day and most of the night was most valuable, and the fire was under control by the time the regular fire gang arrived.

NOT ON SUNDAYS

To the Editor,—In regard to the opening of the Crystal Garden and swimming pool for Sunday amusement, I as a citizen of Victoria wish to enter a protest through your paper.

The press informs us that our religious leaders are in favor of the opening of the Crystal Garden outside of church hours, as are also our Mayor and Aldermen—how one regrets those wasted votes!

Have our religious leaders forgotten that their text book forbids the "seeking of our own pleasure on the Sabbath day"?

If some of our religious leaders had their way Victoria would have German beer gardens open too, and this fair city would soon become worse than any "Palace of Circe."

If one place of amusement is allowed to open on Sunday, then all others have an equal right to do the same.

We are told that the opening of the Crystal Garden need not interfere with the employees "day of rest." Were we less enlightened we might believe this, but the facts are against our power to believe it, and one is inclined to think this "A Sop to Cerberus" that they way get by.

The elevator employees in hotels never have an opportunity to attend a church service on Sunday, and employees engaged in Sunday work at an amusement centre, would probably have the same fate, even if it is open outside of church hours.

No one would desire a return to the Puritanical Sunday which was made so unbearable for children, so much so that one boy is quoted as having said he wished he were a cabbage so that he "wad be oot," but many of us can look back with delight to the Scottish Sabbath with its cessation from toil and its quiet reverent church service, free from disturbing noises such as motor horns and the chug-chug of motor engines outside, whilst we listened to religious leaders who were a benediction to their nation. We are told to "cast up a highway for the Lord" and I know of no better way of doing this than by keeping the Sabbath for what it was given.

A well-kept Sunday is one of the greatest bulwarks of our nation, let the watchmen on the towers seek its preservation for the generations following.

BROADCASTING STATION

To The Editor:—Every local radio fan, excepting perhaps a few whose hobby it is to sit for hours trying to intercept weak broadcasts from impossible distances, will agree that the programmes broadcast by Victoria's radio station are excellent. Mr. Deaville has received many compliments and expressions of thanks and he is certainly deserving of them. It is entirely due to his enterprise that Victoria is once more to be found on the radio map. The publicity which our fair city receives through the medium of "CFCT" is undoubtedly of much value.

And now, alas, it is being whispered that, within the next few weeks there is a likelihood that the station will be closed and the broadcasting equipment dismantled.

One can only hope that the rumor is devoid of foundation. To close down the station just as the radio season is beginning would be deplorable to say the least.

And yet it would not be surprising should it be found impossible to continue, as it is to be feared the station is not receiving the financial backing to which it is entitled. It is true that the City Council made a grant towards the maintenance of the station, but those who are acquainted with the working and upkeep of a modern radio station know that the sum represented by the said grant is but a fraction of the actual cost. In writing thus I do not mean to suggest that the city should increase its grant, although there appears to be no reason why it should not. But I believe it is possible to raise locally a sum sufficient to meet expenses and provide regular first-class programmes. Several plans suggest themselves as to how this might be accomplished. The plan of asking fans to send in contributions has been tried elsewhere but with scant success. It would seem that the average man will not dig into his pockets unless someone holds a hat under his nose. Nevertheless if any might feel disposed to send contributions, however small, would undoubtedly help.

Another plan which has occurred to the writer is one which may be novel but, if given effect to, would contribute in a large measure to a solution of the problem. Let each and every lodge, club or other organization which has funds available, make an annual contribution of a few dollars. In this way citizens would be giving in a corporate capacity so that those who might not be able to contribute individually would at least feel that they had helped indirectly.

It may be urged that all lodge and club members are not radio fans. This is true. But surely all are interested in the welfare and publicity of our city. It should be borne in mind that this is matter which concerns a large and representative body of our citizenship. Radio is not merely a plaything. It is something of profoundly greater import. It is but the beginning of a scientific development such as the world has never before dreamed of and the effects of which on human progress and development are beyond the scope of present day human speculation. It has given a tremendous stimulus to the younger generation towards scientific study, as is evidenced by the number of youths—even boys not yet in their teens—who have built or are building radio sets and are studying electro-magnetism.

Radio is being used extensively for educational propaganda. Indeed it promises to become the greatest civilizing influence known to history.

One could cite scores of reasons why "Station CFCT" should not be allowed to lapse. What of the numbers of the boys who have saved their nickels wherewith to purchase earphones and the parts essential to the construction of simple crystal sets? What of the number of unfortunates whose almost only solace is the pleasure of listening in for an hour or so three or four times weekly, and whose finances preclude anything more expensive than a crystal set whose range does not exceed more than a few miles?

We have in Victoria a live radio club, the first of its kind to be established in Canada. Its membership includes a number of keen young students of radio science who display an intelligence regarding its deep and intricate problems which is little short of amazing.

I believe a committee composed of the officers and other members of the Radio Club, together with interested and influential citizens could tackle successfully this problem of securing adequate support for Victoria's radio station. If there is any truth whatever in this rumor which prompted this culpably long letter, it is evident that something must be done, and that immediately.

JAS. FYFE WILSON.

BIG ADVANCE MADE IN BROADCASTING

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 7.—Termed by experts as revolutionizing the broadcasting of radio programmes, a special selective type of antenna was placed in operation for the first time last night by the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company. The antennae are designed to pick up only certain signals from a certain direction, eliminating interference from the booster station, a great source of intermixing heretofore, according to radio engineers.

PLANS FOR GREAT NEW RECLAMATION SCHEME DRAFTED

Creston Businessmen to Take up Government's Offer of Agricultural Land

Send Delegate to Pattullo; Minister Refuses to Assume Irrigation Cost

Proposed reclamation of 10,000 acres of fertile land in Kootenay Flats near Creston will go ahead soon, it is expected, as a result of definite steps taken by Creston business interests this week. A representative of these interests will com here tomorrow or next Monday to discuss plans for reclaiming this area with Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, who offered to recommend the handing of the land over free to anyone who would make it available for agriculture.

"I have no doubt the Government would accept this proposal as the land at present is useful only for growing hay, Mr. Pattullo said. "If this land could be reclaimed at no public expense and made productive it would be an extremely advantageous deal for the Province."

Mr. Pattullo returned to his desk here to-day after a tour through the interior, well pleased with the progress of all the districts he visited. Mr. Pattullo was particularly struck with the growth of agriculture around Oliver, centre of the big southern Okanagan irrigation scheme. The newly-irrigated area, he said, would produce three times as much this season as last year.

The Minister reiterated his statement made in the interior that the Government would not consider the idea of taking over the cost of Okanagana farmers' private irrigation systems. "The men who benefit from these facilities must pay for them," he said.

Rough estimates place his liabilities at about $9,000,000.

PROROGUED WITHOUT SETTLING QUESTIONS

Alberta Legislators Dispersed With E.D. and B.C. Railway Problem Unsolved

Edmonton, Aug. 7—Still in the position of "marking time" on the two great questions, control of the natural resources of the province and the fate of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway for the settlement of which the adjourned session was called, the Alberta Legislature was prorogued last night, Lieutenant-Governor Brett giving his assent to the five bills which were the fruits of the session, namely, a pipe line bill and amendments to the Noxious Weed Act, the Agriculture Department Act, the Water, Gas, Electric and Telephone Companies Act and the Alberta Election Act.

NEW AGREEMENT DESIRED

Following Premier Greenfield's final statement in the House yesterday that the last offer of the Royal Bank to accept $1,700,000 for the $2,000,000 par value common and debenture stock in the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway would not be recommended by the Government for acceptance by the Legislature, and that the Government would make no decision as to the final disposition of the line until it had secured a better agreement with the bank, the debate on the railway question petered out early in the evening session, after Liberal members, led by C. R. Mitchell, Opposition leader, had made a last appeal to the Government not to allow the Legislature to be prorogued until some settlement of the matter could be reached.

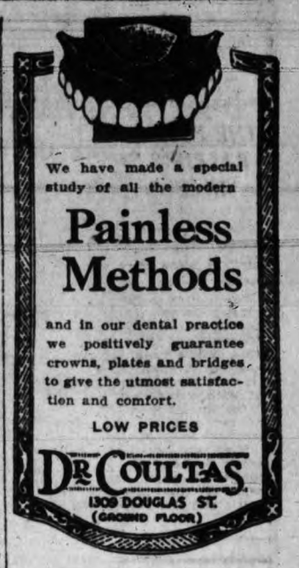
WOMAN LIVING IN HUT FOUND WOUNDED

Mrs. Mary Inglis, Vancouver, Who Defended Squatter's Claim, in Hospital

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Mary Inglis, prominent for months as the lone woman who refused to cease living as a "squatter" at Jericho Beach and was evicted but allowed to occupy a shack facing Spanish Banks on Marine Drive, is in the Vancouver General Hospital to-day.

A provincial policeman found her in her hut yesterday afternoon, her head covered with blood.

At the hospital to-day her condition was described as "improving."



The constable who found her failed to secure any explanation of her condition. "Leave me alone—I'm all right," she kept muttering.

Police searched the hut and found $70 concealed in her bed.

AT THE THEATRES

"THE PRAIRIE WIFE" BALLIN'S FIRST FILM SINCE "VANITY FAIR"

The first production of that artistic director, Hugo Ballin, since "Vanity Fair," is showing at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

The picture is "The Prairie Wife," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, adapted to the screen from Arthur Stringer's popular novel of that name, which was published in the Saturday Evening Post.

It is a story, essentially dramatic, but with many humorous moments, of the struggles of an eastern girl and her husband in developing a farm on the prairies. The picture is filled with such incidents as the prairie fire and the capture of the murderer, with the multiplying theme of the development of the prairie and the transformation of the girl.

CHRISTINE HAD SPLENDID CAST AT COLISEUM

The cast for Thomas H. Ince's latest First National picture, "Christine of the Hungry Heart," was selected with care by Mr. Ince, for the picture contains one emotional climax after another. Those who have seen the picture at the Coliseum Theatre this week realize that the genius of Miss Florence Vidor, Warner Baxter, Ian Keith and Clive Brook was needed to properly interpret the Kathleen Norris story. It deals with a woman's search for happiness and the price she paid for just one misstep after two unhappy marriages. There is sustained interest and the prolonged dramatic "punch."

"ONE WAY STREET" WAS BASED ON SUCCESSFUL NOVEL

"One Way Street," the First National picture now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is based on the successful novel by Beale Davis, and was directed by John Francis Dillon, the noted creator of "Flaming Youth." Ben Lyon and Anna Q. Nilsson have the leading roles, assisted by Marjorie Daw, Lumsden Hare, Mona Kingsley, Thomas Holding and Dorothy Cumming. Its theme is declared to be the most unusual ever seen on the screen.

NEW TRIUMPH IS RECORDED FOR ZANE GREY FILM

With all the dash and vigor of a Zane Grey hero, Tom Mix recorded a triumph in "The Rainbow Trail," his latest William Fox picture, at the Capitol Theatre to-day. This latest photodrama is even more thrilling than "Riders of the Purple Sage," to which it is the sequel.

Mr. Mix and Tony, his wonder horse, go through perilous adventures to rescue the charming Anne Cornwall from the clutches of George Bancroft, the villian. Lucien Littlefield and Mark Hamilton provide an abundance of picturesque comedy.

ZULUS DROWN WHEN MIRACLE FAILS TO PART SEA

A recent attempt to perform a miracle similar to one described in Exodus and shown in the Paramount picture, "The Ten Commandments," ended disastrously, according to a cable dispatch from London which reads:

"Fifty Christian Zulus drowned in a spring torrent when they attempted to apply the Hebraic miracle of the Red Sea to modern waters. Coming to the nameless torrent, the natives recalled the Biblical wonders of the parting of the Red Sea to permit the fleeing Jews led by Moses to escape the Egyptians. The native leader called his men to join him in prayer. On the bank the Zulus prayed to God to stay the waters so that they might go home. Then the leader advanced to the bank and struck the water with his walking staff, commanding the flood to recede. The fifty walked boldly into the water behind their leader and were drowned."

In "The Ten Commandments" shown on the screen at the Dominion Theatre a modern miracle actually is performed. As the Hebrews reach the Red Sea, the Egyptian charioteers are almost upon them. A wall of fire is thrown between the two forces as Moses calls upon God to help his people in their distress. By means of a modern miracle of photography, a tremendous upheaval divides it before your eyes and two huge walls of water form a dry path between them. The Israelites pass safely to the opposite shore, but as the Egyptians attempt to follow, the waters come together and they are drowned in the deluge. These stirring scenes are among the many thrills in "The Ten Commandments."

C.N.R. EARNINGS UP $1,000,000 NET, THORNTON ASSERTS

July Shows First Increases and Prospects Now For Heavy Business, He Says

Action May be Taken Now to Write Off Part of Company's Capitalization

Vernon, B.C., Aug. 7.—Sir Henry W. Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, together with two of his directors and regional and divisional officials, yesterday inspected the new Kamloops-Kelowna branch line and the territory which it will serve. The C.N.R. president's party went to Kelowna, where they were entertained at luncheon, the journey to Kelowna and return being made by automobile.

Last night at Kamloops, Sir Henry and the directors, Major Graham A. Bell and J. Mill Gardner, were guests at a dinner tendered by Kamloops citizens to Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works for British Columbia. In the course of brief address, the Canadian National president dealt with the financial situation of his company. Gross receipts had been reduced by $9,000,000. During the first six months of 1925, as compared with the similar period of 1924, there had been a decrease of operating expenses amounting to $20,200,000, so that net earnings show a betterment of more than $1,000,000. The last few days of July had shown the first increases, and present crop prospects throughout Western Canada indicated that business for the balance of the year would be very heavy.

OUT AFTER BUSINESS

Referring to the new Kamloops-Kelowna branch line nearing completion, Sir Henry informed his audience that the Canadian National was going into the Okanagan Valley with the intention of securing every pound of freight and every passenger possible, and of giving to the people of the area served the very best that could be given in the way of railway service.

Touching upon the financial situation, he stated that while the first three years had been occupied with a multitude of problems requiring solution, a thorough financial survey was now being made which would determine what recommendations should be made to the Government in regard to more complete financial amalgamation of the constituent companies of the Canadian National system, and what, if any, action should be taken toward writing off capitalization.

On their return to Kamloops early to-day the party left for Vancouver and Victoria.

Make It Rain? It's Easy, Says Western Chemist

Los Angeles, Aug. 7—Making rain come from a clear sky may be a tough job, says he, but there's more than one man who can do it. Charles M. Hatfield has had a virtual monopoly on the business for twenty-four years. But now he has a competitor. William Haight, local contractor, is now in the field as Hatfield's rival. Hatfield's method is to expose a secret mixture of chemicals on top of tall scaffolds. The fumes rising in the air cause a condensation of moisture, he says. Haight, on the other hand, erects an ordinary oil derrick, puts up a complicated electric apparatus and, by discharging electricity into the clouds, gets the same results. Hatfield's usual contract is for $4,000 per inch above the normal rainfall—always on a no-rain-no-pay basis. He is in big demand among farmers in time of drought. Once he was too successful. That was in 1916, when he guaranteed to fill a big reservoir near San Diego. He did—but so much rain fell that the reservoir collapsed and caused a disastrous flood. He isn't surprised that he finally has competition. On the contrary, he says that when men realize how simple it is there will be rain-making contractors all over the country.

PEOPLE FLED WHEN FOREST FIRE SPREAD

Bellingham, Wash., Aug. 7.—A crew of men was forced to drive a locomotive a quarter of a mile through a fire and over four wooden bridges, one of which was ablaze, to avoid death, when the Lyman Timber Company plant, twenty miles South of here, was destroyed by a forest fire last night.

After most of the men had been discharged, the locomotive returned in an effort to save the burning bridge, but it had already collapsed.

Three girls employed in the cookhouse of the company stuck to their job, providing food for firefighters until all hope of saving the camp had been given up later in the afternoon. They were then forced to flee through a wood, as a path leading from the camp was covered with flames.

Fifty hogs, liberated at the camp when the fire got out of control, fled into the flames and perished.

KIDNAPPED — Dr. Harvey Howard, a representative of the Rockefeller Institute in China, has been kidnapped by Chinese bandits. The American State Department is taking steps to gain his release.

FARM DISCUSSION IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Aug. 7 (Canadian Press Cable)—At a special meeting of the Council of Agriculture yesterday the question of a subsidy being granted to assist agriculture in Britain was considered.

A report from a special committee of the Council of Agriculture stated the farmers generally were not asking for state aid, and would prefer to carry on business in their own way. This, at the present level of costs and prices, would, in many cases, mean devoting land to grass instead of to cultivation. If Parliament should decide that in the interest of the nation it was of paramount importance to arrest the decline of the arable area in the country and restore the grass land to the plough, then the Council agreed that the best method of state aid to achieve this object should be considered.

MAYOR AND POLICE IN LIQUOR ROW

Boston, Aug. 7.—The federal grand jury which investigated an alleged "liquor ring" in Chelsea yesterday reported indictments against 44 persons, including Mayor Lawrence F. Quigley and his brother Thomas, a police inspector. Two sergeants of police also are in the list of those indicted.

NIGHT BLAZE IN FAIRFIELD DISTRICT

It only takes a spark to cause a fire. This was the assertion of firemen when they returned from fighting the blaze at the home of C. R. Dunford, 1029 Pakington Street, Fairfield, last night. To persons walking down Cook Street a chimney in among a well-built section of property could be seen belching sparks. Before half an hour had elapsed, flames were leaping skywards and the house was in the grip of fire.

The firemen soon extinguished the blaze.

ROCKEFELLER FUND OPPOSED BY CHURCH LEADER IN TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 7.—That the Rockefeller Foundation leaves its blight wherever it falls, and the Baptist Church must be constantly on its guard against accepting any of the funds and becoming entangled by such acceptance, was the declaration of Rev. T. T. Shields last night in the Jarvis Street Baptist Church here.

Dr. Shields said the menace from the funds of the Rockefeller Foundation was not to be found in the money which had already been distributed, but in the funds which remained. He said there was a persistent campaign under way to get control of the various church colleges both in Canada and the United States with the aim of spreading the doctrines of Modernism instead of those of Fundamentalism.

The bank was now willing to accept the sum of $1,700,000, he said, but the Government still felt it could not recommend the offer for acceptance by the Legislature.

COSTLY FOREST FIRE

Paris, Aug. 7.—The origin of the forest fire in Southern France which caused damage to the extent of 1,500,000 francs has been traced to the carelessness of an agricultural laborer named Andre Peppino, who, while resting from his work for a few minutes, lit a cigarette and threw the lighted match away.

FIRE WAS CAUSE OF DEATH IN SEATTLE

Man Drowned When Creosoting Plant Burned; Four Firemen Injured

Seattle, Aug. 7.—A spectator lost his life, four firemen were injured and nearly $500,000 damage was caused by fire which destroyed the Colman Creosote Company's works here last night.

In his eagerness to see the blaze, a spectator leaned too far forward and fell into the harbor and was drowned. Three firemen were hurt when a hose cart, answering an alarm, turned over at a corner. The fourth had his ankle sprained when he was struck by a hose coupling at the fire.

It was the first general alarm fire Seattle had experienced in two years. Every available piece of apparatus was called out, and two fire tugs and seven pumps were kept working before the flames were brought under control.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Nipper's Trick

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis)

The sun was shining brightly through the trees around Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow when it was time for Skipper and Nipper, two of the little rabbit boys, to hop out of bed and get ready to go with Mr. Longears to the forest to learn about bushes and berries and all things like that.

"Do you think we'll have an adventure to-day, as you did yesterday, with Scooter and Tooter and the Lady Bugs?" asked Skipper as he and his brother hopped along beside Mr. Longears, who had taken them, and a number of other little bunnies and their mother to live with him.

"Well, I hope we have some kind of a jolly adventure," spoke Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "But what we came out for was so you two little chaps could learn to find your way about the woods; to learn the different kinds of plants so you will not eat those which aren't good for you."

"This is a dandy trick!" whispered Nipper.

"Oh, yes, we want to learn, even if it isn't time for school," said Nipper, winking one eye at his brother. "But we also want to have fun!"

"Maybe we'll have some," said Uncle Wiggily, and he twinkled his pink nose as he frequently did when thinking.

At last the three reached the deep, dark woods, where it would not have been well for Skipper and Nipper to have gone alone, for they might have been lost. But with Uncle Wiggily near them it was all right. The Bunny gentleman showed the little rabbits how to keep away from poison ivy and poison sumach, and how to listen for the buzz of the rattlesnake, who gives a warning with his tail before he strikes.

But after a while Skipper and Nipper became a bit tired of trying to remember the names of the different plants Uncle Wiggily pointed out. And even Uncle Wiggily, himself, was getting a little weary.

"I will sit down on this green, mossy log in the sun which will warm the rheumatism pains in my legs," said Mr. Longears. "Maybe I shall take a little sleep. You bunny boys may play about until I awaken. But do not go far away."

Skipper and Nipper promised that they would not and when Uncle Wiggily was asleep Nipper whispered to his brother:

"I'm going to play a trick. Come on! You and I will climb down inside this hollow stump behind where Daddyccums is sleeping. When he wakes up he won't know where we are. He'll think we are lost and he'll get all excited and jump around trying to find us. Then we'll pop up out of the stump and holler 'Boo!' at him!"

"Oh, that's a good trick! Let's do it!" whispered Skipper.

The two little rabbit boys climbed up outside the moss covered hollow stump and snuggled down inside. Through a crack they could see Mr. Longears asleep on the log. Pretty soon the old rabbit gentleman awakened.

"Come, Skipper! Come, Nipper!" he called. "We'll hop along and learn more about the woods." But Skipper and Nipper inside the stump did not answer. They had to hold their paws over their mouths to keep from laughing. "I wonder where those bunnies are?" went on Uncle Wiggily. "I hope they aren't lost. I'll go down to the brook and look! They may have fallen in!"

"Oh, this is a dandy trick!" whispered Nipper to Skipper. But a little later, through the crack in the stump, they saw Uncle Wiggily hopping up from the brook carrying an old tin can full of water. Before the little bunnies could hop out or shout, Uncle Wiggily emptied the can of water down inside the hollow stump, wetting them through and through.

"Stop, Daddycums! Stop, please!" begged Nipper, popping up with water running down his face as it did down Skipper's."

"Oh, were you in the hollow stump?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Why, I thought you were lost. And I poured water in the stump because I thought an old mud turtle gentleman might live there and be thirsty. Why did you go in the stump?"

"It was now—er—it was— now to—play a trick!" faltered Nipper.

"Hum! Well, I guess I played the trick; didn't I?" laughed Mr. Longears. And I really think that he knew all the while, that the two bunnies were in the stump; don't you

Anyhow they soon dried in the warm sun and laughed at the way the trick was turned on them. And if the spool of thread doesn't try to roll through the eye of the needle when the scissors chase it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the poke berries.

LEADER OF INDIAN LIBERAL PARTY DIED

Sir S. Banerjea, Who Succumbed in Calcutta, Was Seventy-seven Years Old

Calcutta, India, Aug. 7 (Canadian Press Calbe via Reuter's)—Sir Surendranath Banerjea, leader of the Liberal Party in Bengal and the father of Indian Nationalism, died yesterday. Although he was seventy-seven years old, he recently assumed editorship of his old organ of Liberalism, The Bengali, which position he had previously held for many years. He was taking an active part in the efforts to revivify the Liberal Party in India in its fight against the home rulers, and his death is regarded as adding complications to a condition of affairs that is already difficult.

Mrs. Ellen Cooper, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gowen of Victoria died yesterday at Los Angeles at the age of sixty-five years.

Mrs. Cooper, who had been ailing for a considerable period, went to California about two years ago from Portland, Ore. She was a native daughter, having been born here sixty-five years ago. The late Mrs. Cooper leaves two sons, Mr. Pelham Cooper of Los Angeles, and Mr. Frank Cooper of Seattle.

Two brothers and three sisters are residents of Victoria. Mr. C. N. Gowen and Mr. F. A. Gowen; Mrs. F. Carne, Mrs. Thain and Miss M. E. Gowen. Mrs. Reveley, a sister, and George Gowan, a brother, died several years ago.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Cooper will take place in Los Angeles.

SAYS FASHIONS IN CANADA BACKWARD

Miss Anne Williams, Teacher's Leader, Depreciates Styles in Montreal

Toronto, Aug. 7.—Forty-six educationists arrived here to-day in two parties, one of twelve, from the National Union of Teachers, and the other of thirty-four women from the National Union of Women Teachers. The teachers had views to express on everything from fashions to the British Government's subsidy of the coal industry.

Miss Anne Williams of Nottinghamshire, leader of the women's party, expressed the opinion that fashions in Canada were backward to say the least. She particularly deprecated the styles in Montreal. Miss Williams, however, was delighted with the spontaneous manner of Canadian girls, as compared with the more reserved English. A tendency in the British school system was described by one of the visitors. It is to separate the brighter groups and let them work mostly on their own, permitting the teacher to give most of her attention to the more backward pupils.

GARDEN PARTY

Several members and friends of R. O. W. I. met at a charming garden party in aid of the Solarium for crippled children held at the home of Mrs. Norman Musgrave, Wilkerson Road on Thursday last.

Misses Pettit and Stone dispensed ice creams, punch and other refreshments. Delicious tea was served by several young ladies of the party, Mrs. E. Todd sang sweetly during the tea hour, Mrs. L. St. MacQueen was kept busy with ladies curiously prying into their future, with palmistry, which added to the funds.

The whole affair was a success both socially and financially and a substantial sum was netted for the Solarium for the crippled children. Much interest was taken in the pictures shown of the Treloar Cripples' Hospital, Alton, England and Hayling Island, showing the little patients during treatment.

The members of R.O.W.I. will hold a meeting at the institute room Friday, August 7 at 7.30 p.m.

FIRE CLAIMS SECOND VICTIM

New Liskeard, Ont., Aug. 7.—The fire which destroyed a log house at Kirkland Lake Tuesday last, yesterday claimed its second victim when Mary Boland, the elder of the two girls caught in the burning building, died from her burns in the hospital here. The girls escaped through a window, but were severely burned before they got out.

GEOGRAPHER—Mrs. Helen S. Wright has just been elected a fellow of the Royal Geographic Society of London for her writings on Arctic and Antarctic exploration and history. This honor is especially noteworthy since the society has taken few women into its membership.

WALKING IN THE RAIN

Did you ever go away for a Summer vacation and have it practically spoiled by wet weather?

Last year walking in the rain proved to be quite a fad with some of the residents of a smart seaside place where rainy days outnumbered sunny ones for a long period. Young girls decided that they would not have their Summer ruined by the weather, so instead of moping indoors in the morning and getting together on some pretext or other in the afternoon, when they ate more chocolates and nibbled more cakes with their tea than their strict vows to maintain lead-pencil figures permitted, they walked in the rain.

Of course, for this sport good-looking rain clothes are essential. This means really waterproof shoes of some sort, fairly heavy stockings—thin silk and wool are good—a good-looking raincoat over a short frock or knickers, and a rainhat. A walking-stick is a companionable accessory to carry on a rainy day tramp. Of course these walks are generally indulged in by a crowd of young girls together, and sometimes they walk across country to a favorite inn for lunch and back again in the afternoon.

HIGH SCHOOL THRONGED AT CLOSING PROGRAMME OF SUMMER SCHOOL HERE

Active, exciting and inspiring were the closing scenes witnessed last evening at the High School, when the benedictory or parting exercises connected with the present year Summer school took place before an audience, that completely filled the auditorium. The extremely interesting affair assumed the form of short musical programmes, folk dancing, farewell messages and presentations of bouquets to instructor and instructress, the whole concluding with a most enjoyable dance in the gymnasium to the music of Ozard's orchestra.

During the course of the five weeks' sessions, when so many teachers of the public schools of the Province gather for personal and mutual gain, friendships have been made, school experiences related, intermingling of ideas and timely suggestions interchanged and intercommunicated one with the other, and a hundred and one little things told of life's humanities and of personal dispositions, have been discussed. All have been centred for general improvement, each and every one seeking further knowledge in some subject or other, each bent on finding a higher knowledge and a better insight in their scholastic research and attainments, and all seemingly sincerely and studiously disposed towards their profession, perhaps the most far-reaching, noble and important of all professions.

MUSIC CLASS

The evening's proceedings opened with a music class trained and conducted by Miss Ethel M. Coney, of the Vancouver Normal School. This body of young singers, comprised of thirty soprano and contralto voices, following some introductory remarks by Miss McAllister on the life and works of Joseph Haydn, rendered in capital manner the three choruses, Haydn's "The Dream," "How God Made the Daisies" (Cyril Jenkins), and the delightful piquant little unison song by Bernard Elliott, "Laugh a Bit," splendidly given in the true spirit of "Laugh, and the world laughs with you." Assisting in this part of the evening's programme were

UNCEREMONIOUS VISITOR ANNOYED HALIFAX WOMAN

Halifax, Aug. 7. — Sitting in her front parlor yesterday afternoon in a two-story wooden house she occupied in the heart of the business district of Halifax, Mrs. Zeta Poole received an unexpected guest in the shape of a huge motor truck that crashed its way through the side of the building and came to rest in the middle of the room with its fenders on the threshold of the dining-room door. Mrs. Poole was somewhat annoyed, but not greatly surprised, since this was the third time in as many years she has been forced to entertain a similar caller. The truck had been proceeding down Blowers Street, which is steep, when the driver lost control. The big machine started for Mrs. Poole's drawing-room, arriving unheralded. The driver was arrested.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The city land department this morning sold A. B. Smith, for $300 a fine lot on the north side of Haultain Street, east of Shelbourne Street.

The offices of the City School Board are closed for the Summer vacation, but will be open on Saturday mornings.

Before constables are advanced in classification and salary, Chief Fry must submit recommendations to the Police Commission for approval, the board yesterday afternoon ruled.

The School Cadets Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster A. Rumsby, will play to-morrow afternoon, from 2 till 4 o'clock, at the Children's Playground in Beacon Hill Park.

The city fire department extinguished a roof blaze at a dwelling on Bay Street, opposite the site of the old tannery, near Douglas Street, shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. Little damage was done.

The thanks of the City Police Commission were yesterday afternoon rendered to Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart for their entertainment of the delegates attending the convention of sheriffs and police chiefs.

A communication from the Provincial Public Works office stating there was no money available for the West Coast road was to-day referred to the West Coast committee by the Chamber of Commerce directors.

The Chamber of Commerce directors were advised to-day that the legislative committee of the City Council does not recommend the passing of a by-law prohibiting the erection of cloth signs in front of retail establishments for the purpose of advertising sales.

Inspector Forbes Cruckshanks and other members of the provincial police are working in close co-operation with the city's detective force, in a campaign to capture the men who burglared the safe at David Spencer's Limited on Sunday last. Chief John Fry yesterday afternoon informed the Police Commission.

The Royal Society of St. George will hold their annual basket picnic at Goldstream on Wednesday, August 19. Sightseeing cars will leave the City Hall at 2 o'clock. Tickets can be obtained from the secretary, Mr. Langley, or any of the entertainment committee. All kinds of sports, including races and a cricket match, will be included on the afternoon programme.

Trail B.C. Police Commission fears an irruption of Bolshevism in Canada, should the Dominion Government carry out rumored plans of settling 10,000 Ukrainian peasants on the prairies. The City Police Commission was yesterday assured that a settlement of these people at Trail is a centre of red political activity, and accorded endorsation to a Trail resolution opposing admittance of more Ukrainians into Canada.

All arrangements are complete for the third annual picnic of the Canadian Legion, which this year will take place at Campbell's Corner, Prospect Lake, on Saturday next. Those intending to go are asked to communicate with Secretary H. P. Thorpe. The picnickers are asked to take their own baskets. Hot water, tea and milk will be provided. A splendid programme of sports has been arranged, including some comic events. The band of the Sea Scouts will provide music. Tallyhos will leave the club rooms at 1 o'clock.

Young, provincial medical health officer, to-day. The doctor mentioned that the question of mortality from cancer is one that has been attracting a great deal of attention throughout the world. The mortality in British Columbia has arisen from 36 deaths which was two per cent. of the total death registered in 1906 to 436 deaths in 1923, which was ten per cent. of the total deaths registered.

LABOR SPOKESMEN UPHELD BY GROUP

Toronto, Aug. 7. — The Toronto Trades and Labor Council went on record last night as strongly supporting the statements made by James Simpson, Peter Heenan and John Queen, M.P.P., at the British Empire Labor conference in London regarding immigration to Canada.

It also issued strong protest against the Department of Immigration at Ottawa and various newspapers for their criticism of the three labor delegates to Britain. Resolutions were passed that a protest be sent to the Department of Immigration and another to Premier King asking him to discharge the person or persons responsible for the statement issued by the Department.

WOMAN SPOKE

Delegate Mary McNab declared Mr. Simpson had been right in telling British people not to come to Canada.

The council passed a resolution that James Simpson be nominated as a candidate in the next Federal election. No riding was specified.

Messrs. Queen of Winnipeg and Simpson of Toronto issued a statement to the British press declaring the industrial depression in Canada was acute and there were tens of thousands of unemployed in Canadian cities, that hundreds of factories in the Dominion were being closed and that thousands of farms in the West were being abandoned. They spoke along similar lines at a session of the Labor Conference. The Department of Immigration, in an official statement took strong objection to this.

The city directory shows John Kennedy resides at 668 Hastings East. Mrs. Kennedy stated J. Ainsworth, employed on a tugboat, whose wife resides at 44 Lakewood Drive, had lived at 668 Hastings East.

GIRL TELLS OF DEATH THREATS

Chinese Waitress Was Hurting Family Pride by Working

Saying that she had been threatened with death unless she obeyed the wishes of members of her family, and refrained from taking employment in the Hongkong Chop Suey House, Lum Yoke, Chinese waitress, charged with selling liquor in a restaurant, told her story of an alleged 'plant' in the City Police Court to-day. She denied having sold liquor to four Chinamen.

Dressed in black silk, in the conventional Oriental garb, Lum Yoke, dark-eyed and self-possessed, took the stand in her own defence to-day. She had worked in the restaurant for the last two months, the court was told through an interpreter. She sought work there about May 20, she said. At that time she had been back from China only a short time Having borrowed money from friends in the Orient, it was her wish that she should repay this sum as soon as possible. She owed $700, Mex., she told the court.

A part of this loan has been paid through advance wages received from her employers, the girl said. Later she was given an extra advance of $500. Her salary was a good one, $35 weekly, with tips, and she did not wish to leave her work.

Subjected to cross-examination by Claude Harrison, city prosecutor, witness held to her story.

CASE NEARS END

All witnesses for the prosecution have been called, and the session continued this afternoon at 2.15.

This morning Constable Cremer and Strong were called and told their story of the raid, led by Chief of Police John Fry, when Lum Yoke was arrested. Lum Go and Lum Sow, who previously gave testimony for the prosecution, were called by Stuart Henderson, counsel for the defence, to-day, and questioned closely, regarding their connection with the case. It is expected that all evidence will have been completed by the end of this afternoon's session of the court.

KIWANIS MEMBER AND BOY PICNIC WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Eighty Men and Lads Enjoy Outing at Island View Beach

On Wednesday afternoon last the Big Brother committee of the Kiwanis Club held a picnic at Island View Beach, Saanich. While the picnic was held especially for fatherless boys under the guidance of Kiwanis Big Brothers, every member of the club was invited, providing he brought at least one boy with him.

About eighty boys and men attended the affair, and when the sports were in progress it was difficult to tell who were having the more fun, the big boys or the little boys.

Baseball between the men and boys was the first item on the programme. In spite of leniency toward the grown-ups on the part of umpires, B. C. Nicholas and Mark Graham, the final score was too much in favor of the boys to publish.

Promising football material was discovered among the younger lads by Al Meugens and Cecil Heaton.

Races arranged by Harold Cross were most exciting, and several events had to be run over before the judges could decide the winners.

BOUNTIFUL SUPPLIES

Before tea was served by W. S. Norrington and his committee everyone indulged in a refreshing swim. The box lunches brought by each Kiwanian satisfied all demand, the large quantity of good things left over being dispatched by a delegation of boys to the children's aid camp in the vicinity.

During the afternoon President Howard Miller and Secretary Carl Stocker were kept busy serving ice cream and drinks.

The evening was spent around a huge bonfire on the beach with a never-ceasing programme of songs and stories. A tired but thoroughly enthusiastic party returned to the city about 9.30 p.m., the last question being, "When can we have another similar party?"

The picnic was arranged by the underprivileged child committee of the club.

APPROVAL IS GIVEN TO CITY WATER PURCHASE

Haste Was Necessary, Says Mayor Pendray

Victoria Ready to Give Saanich Reasonable Rate

Approval of the city's action in securing the Goldstream waterworks from Esquimalt was expressed at the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting this afternoon. Dan W. Campbell said he thought the move would give general satisfaction. He looked upon it as a step in the right direction and one that would help build up a greater Victoria. James Fletcher seconded the motion, which carried without a dissenting voice.

OPEN TO SAANICH

Mayor J. Carl Pendray stated that in all the negotiations he had tried hard to work with Saanich. From information he had he decided that an immediate move was necessary, and that was the reason for the hasty action taken. The city had lots of water for sale, but was not holding any club over the municipalities. The invitation to Saanich was still open. The development of the Saanich Peninsula depended upon an adequate water supply and, through Saanich, Victoria was prepared to supply it.

Alderman Todd remarked the water on the South end of the Island belonged to the South end of the Island, and they should all be prepared to utilize it on a fair and equitable basis, standing ready to share in revenue or losses.

H. O. Kirkham referring to a remark of Mayor Pendray, said he had heard nothing of the invitation of Victoria to Saanich to name a committee to meet the city in the last two weeks. The city appeared to have made a very good buy as far as could be judged with the information given, but the present, he thought, was not the right time to argue Saanich and Victoria's disagreement on water.

"I am perfectly willing to discuss it. Let's have it out now," said Mayor Pendray.

Mr. Kirkham suggested the chamber could help by getting together committees of the city and municipalities to discuss water problems.

Saanich was not asking for water at below cost, or even at cost. It had figures prepared which had never been refuted. These figures showed Saanich had always paid more than cost for water.

Regarding Elk Lake, Alderman Todd said if the City of Victoria wanted to be unkind to Saanich it could not do it better than giving Saanich Elk Lake and persuading the municipality to get its water from Elk Lake.

SAANICH REPAYS TO CONSUMERS EXCESS WATER CHARGE MADE

Legal Advice Brings Delay to Enforcement of Increased Charges

Saanich is refunding to water users the excess levied since July 15, when the meter reader commenced collecting accounts rendered on the advanced scale.

This action follows legal advice that water, supplied prior to the endorsation of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, must be charged for at the old rate.

The immediate effect is to restore to the irrigators of Gordon Head large payments for water consumed, the bills in many cases being rendered at fifty per cent increase above the amount now found due. Accounts paid by individual cultivators, especially Chinese market gardeners in many cases exceeded $100 for two months. These will be reduced to about $70.

In the urban wards, where meter readings are now proceeding, it will be some weeks before the new scale of charges come into effect.

The water used prior to July 15 cannot be known and the new rate now comes into effect following the first meter reading subsequent to the Order-in-Council.

Indirectly the effect of the delay will be to keep the increased charges in force for several months longer than otherwise necessary. The change transfers from larger users of water a portion of the increased cost, especially for June consumption, which cost Saanich over $5,000, mostly used by irrigators who now avoid increased charges for this supply.

Celebrated Artists To Appear Here During Winter Season

ALFRED HOLLINS, English blind organist, will visit city for first time next November.

CHARLES M. COURBOIN, gifted Belgian organist, returns in early Spring.

JOHN COATES, England's famous tenor and

ETHEL LEGINSKA, one of that country's greatest pianists, will give recitals.

CARVETH WELLS, noted English explorer, comes next Spring to tell us all about Jerusalem.

ANNA CASE, concert soprano,

EFREM ZIMBALIST, famous violinist, and

GERMAINE SCHNITZER, pianist, are also booked to appear, and

GERTRUDE HUNTLEY GREEN, distinguished Canadian pianist, will open season with a recital first week in October.

By G.J.D.

ALFRED HOLLINS

The visit of Alfred Hollins, one of the two famous blind organists of England—the other is William Wolstenholme—is really one of the most interesting events in Victoria's musical history. It was only by delicate and tactful persuasion that this wonderful organist consented to visit Canada and some parts of the United States of America, and already New York, where he opens the first of his recital series in September, Toronto, Montreal and other Eastern cities are looking forward to his visit with exuberant anticipation.

Alfred Hollins was born totally blind at Hull in 1863, and when nine years old he entered the Wilberforce Institute, where he continued his pianoforte studies under the oldest brother of Sir Joseph Barnby. Six years later he entered the Royal Normal College for the Blind at Upper Norwood, and began his organ study under Dr. E. J. Hopkins. His progress was remarkable on both instruments. At the age of thirteen he played Beethoven's "Emperor Concerto" at the Crystal Palace under the great conductor, August Manns, with tremendous success, and from then on he was greatly sought after. He studied a year with the famous Bulow in Berlin, after which he received the appointment as organist of St. John's, Redhill, and has filled many important positions. In 1886 he came to America under Dr. Campbell and created such a furore that a second visit was made two years after. In 1904 he toured Australia with huge success, but since that time has declined many tempting offers. He has written many works, including several organ pieces, some of which will be played during his forthcoming tour.

EFREM ZIMBALIST

One of the distinguished violinists of the age is Efrem Zimbalist, and like Mischa Elman, now reckons himself a citizen of New York. Born in Russia thirty-six years ago, he began the study of the violin when seven years old, and became a pupil of the master, Leopold Auer, at Petrograd. His London debut established his fame in England, and America always welcomes him as "one of us." His wife is Alma Gluck, soprano, born in Roumania, who since the age of six has lived for the most part in American. "Zimmy," as he is familiarly known, is quite popular in New York.

ANNA CASE

Anna Case is one of America's most popular concert sopranos, and has practically sang in every State of the Union. She is American born and entirely American trained, and her bookings indicate the catholicity of her appeal. In 1923 she was particularly busy, and each year has seen her in numerous engagements. She is a beautiful woman, and possesses a voice of rare beauty and purity. For many seasons she was with the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York.

GERTRUDE HUNTLEY GREEN

It will no doubt be remembered that through insufficient time to prepare a big work for organ and piano with Charles M. Courboin, as was anticipated last season, and was not therefore given the announcement that our gifted pianist is to play Caesar Frank's great concerto for organ and piano with the Belgian organist, will be hailed with delight throughout the whole community. Mrs. Green will practically open the music season here, when she will give a recital the first week in October under the auspices of the Men's Guild of Christ Church Cathedral.

JOHN COATES

John Coates is considered England's most distinguished dramatic and concert tenors. He hails from Girlington, Yorkshire, and sang as a Boy chorister from his sixth to twelfth year in churches at Bradford and Chester. When twenty-eight he studied with the famous London teacher, W. Shakespeare, and a year later he made his debut at the Savoy Theatre in "Utopia Limited." For the next six years he sang in light opera, with ever increasing success, and came to America during this time, but refused many flattering offers, as it was then his intention to study for grand opera, and after placing himself for a year at Paris under J. Bouhy, he made his debut in grand opera at Covent Garden in 1901. Since that time he has appeared with enormous success on the continent and throughout Britain. He toured Australia and Africa, also with the well-known Quinlan Opera Company. His forthcoming transcontinental tour is sure to prove a triumphant one, and his first coming to Victoria will be hailed with sheer delight.

CHARLES M. COURBOIN

The return of Charles M. Courboin, the celebrated Belgian organist, in the Spring for the second time to the city is bound to create much enthusiasm. It will be remembered the phenomenal sensation he created here during his last season's visits, and the event will be all the more enhanced from the fact that he and Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green are to play a most important work for organ and pianoforte, by the great French composer, Caesar Franck. Mr. Courboin will be here in February next.

ETHEL LEGINSKA

Born at Hull in 1883, Ethel Leginska is one of England's great concert-pianists. She commenced playing the piano when a little over four years of age, and was a pupil of the famous teacher, Leschetizky, at Vienna for three years. She made her debut before an American audience at New York over ten years ago, receiving an immense ovation. Her playing is characterized by masculine vigor, dashing brilliancy and great variety of tonal color. She has written many works of real merit, and at the time of writing is conducting for two evenings the big orchestra at the Hollywood Bowl, Los Angeles. Some weeks ago she disappeared in sensational manner. She is extraordinarily temperamental. Her original name was Leggins.

GERMAINE SCHNITZER

The return of Germaine Schnitzer, recognized as one of the world's greatest pianists, cannot fail to arouse considerable attention. This French pianist—she was born about thirty-five years ago in Paris—has played under the greatest conductors and with the largest symphony orchestras of the present day, and has toured extensively. Her success should be unquestioned.

CARVETH WELLS

"The huge success of Carveth Wells, the celebrated English explorer, last Spring, will no doubt be repeated next year, as it is the intention of this inimitable travelogue speaker to come and tell us all about Jerusalem, where he now is. He also will explore some unknown parts of the great Mediterranean Sea, the discovery of which, the explorer says, will prove "intensely interesting and humorous." Carveth Wells just now is the rage in America, and his recently published book on his Malay experiences and adventures is one of the present "top-sellers."

THE HOMERUN SITUATION

St. Louis, Aug. 6.—First Baseman Bottomley, while in the "scope of his employment," June 2, in a game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds, "deliberately and with the intention to create a situation commonly known as a home-run," batted a baseball into the bleachers at Sportsman's Park, complains Irwin Hayes in a suit to-day for $7,500 damages against the owners of the St. Louis Nationals.

Hayes was in the bleachers, and the ball hit him in the face, causing nervous shock and disfigurement, he asserts.

STRIKING MARINERS RETURN TO CHINA

Canadian Jail Term Was Meted Out to Them For Refusing Duty

On board the N.Y.K. liner Iyo Maru, calling here at 4 p.m. to-day, outbound for the Orient, are twenty-four Chinese seamen formerly members of the Coughlan steamer, City of Vancouver.

While the City of Vancouver was loading outbound at Sound ports the men walked off the ship and refused, it was asserted, to stay by the terms of a contract completed with the Shanghai Seamen's Institute.

When the vessel was on her way to sea further trouble arose, and she put into this port where the striking seamen were hailed before Magistrate Jay. Light terms of imprisonment followed. Meanwhile the City of Vancouver took on a new crew, brought out from China on the next boat, and put to sea. The striking mariners are routed back on the Iyo Maru for their home in Shanghai.

The Iyo will pick up a light cargo here before clearing for Yokohama and Orient ports.

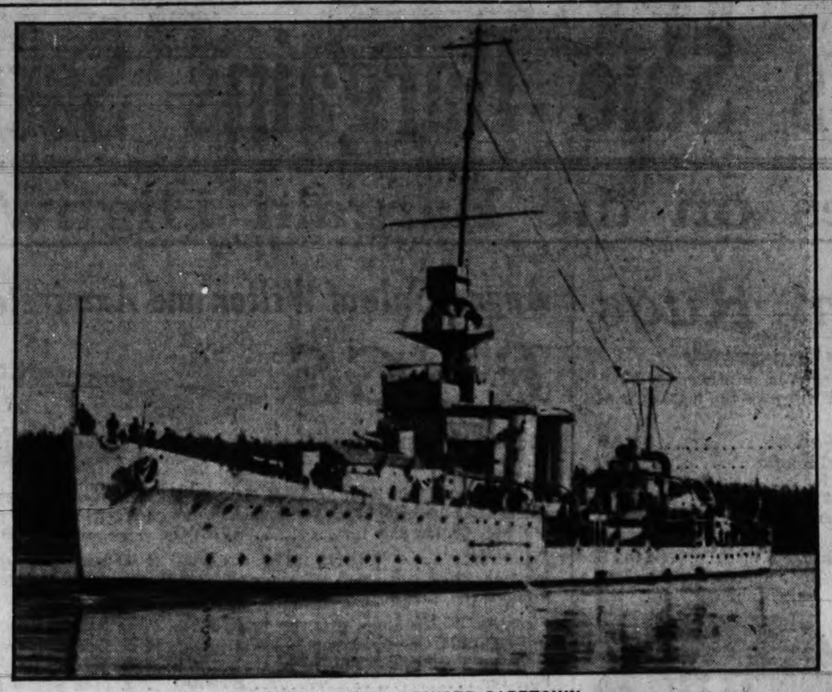
London, Aug. 7 (Canadian Press Cable)—Lieut.-Colonel John Mackenzie Rogan, former bandmaster of the Coldstream Guards and one of the best known musicians in London, sailed on the liner Montcalm for Canada to-day. He is going to Toronto to organize the tattoo at the Canadian National Exhibition, and also to conduct massed bands at the exhibition.

Other passengers on the Montcalm were General Duff-Stuart, Vancouver, one of the competitors in the National Rifle Association's recent meeting at Bisley, and the Canadian girl athletes who competed at the women's international meeting here recently.

Hongkong, Aug. 7.—The Canadian liner Empress of Australia sailed to-day for Shanghai with a good number of Chinese signed as members of the crew.

At Esquimalt Dockyard Jetty This Morning



BRITISH LIGHT CRUISER CAPETOWN

here for eleven-day stay as unit of British North America and West Indies Squadron, now making her second call at this port. The H.M.S. Capetown was here on November 2, 1922 with different complement.

H.M.S. CAPETOWN FROM BERMUDA BASE WELCOMED TO PORT

Officers and Men to be Feted Royally in Stay of Eleven Days; Formal Calls on Administrative, Naval and Military Authorities Completed This Morning; Mayor Pendray Extends Freedom of the City.

With her lean grey ylanks typical of her speed and her sharp prow cleaving the water aside in foam, H.M.S. Capetown steamed into Esquimalt Harbor promptly at 9 o'clock this morning from Comox. The British light cruiser barked out a formal welcome from her saluting guns and came alongside the naval jetty. She will be here for a stay of eleven days, before proceeding to Vancouver.

The usual civilities accorded when a naval vessel puts into port were accorded on all sides and the way is now clear for the entertainment of her officers and men.

This morning Capt. G. H. Knowles, D.S.O., R.N., called on His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. Commander Brabant, R.N., senior naval officer at Esquimalt, paid his compliments to the commander of the cruiser, as did Brig.-Gen. J. M. Ross, C.M.G., colonel commandant of M.D. 11.

On behalf of the city of Victoria, Mayor Carl J. Pendray, Aldermen Todd and J. A. Shanks made a formal call on Capt. Knowles, extending the freedom of the city to the complement of the British light cruisers.

H.M.S. Capetown, a unit of the British North American and West Indies squadron, is on an extensive tour of British ports. When she reached here to-day it was for the second time, her first call taking place on November 2, 1922. On that occasion Capt. Edward R. Jones was in command. Since then her complement have been commissioned afresh, and approximately 450 officers and men are making, for the most part, their first call in these waters.

Several of the officers on board remember Esquimalt when it was an Imperial naval station in the 1890's, when as many as six warships rode at anchor there with the white ensign floating in the breeze.

ENTERTAINMENT

Itial plans for the entertainment of her complement include a dance and ball at Government House to-night for the officers, and a smoker to-morrow night at the Army and Navy Club for petty officers, and all ratings of the lower decks.

Having in view the ready hospitality accorded by the citizens of Victoria to British officers under similar circumstances, the city this year confined its entertainment to plans for the men. Under Alderman William Marchant the civic reception committee have secured free passes for the men to all theatres in Victoria and to the Crystal Garden.

Veterans organizations, joining with a will into the plans for the adequate entertainment of the men, have extended invitation after invitation for smokers, sports and other events. No stone has been left unturned to ensure that her complement will be royally feted in their eleven-day stay at this point.

An up-to-date armament is included in the guns carried by H.M.S. Capetown. The vessel carries a complement of approximately 450 officers and men. Her armament includes five 4-inch, two three-inch anti-croft, four three-pounder, two two-pounder and one machine gun. She has eight 24-inch torpedo tubes.

She was completed in 1919 by Cammell-Lair of Birkenhead, England, and is 451 feet long, 43½ feet in breadth with draft of 16 1-3 feet. Her crusing speed is 29 knots.

Her officers, many of whom are known here, are as follows:

Capt. G. H. Knowles, D.S.O.

Lieut.-Commanders Walter F. Preedy and E. R. Archer.

Lieuts. R. H. Cowan, G. B. Tingley, F. H. G. Allen, A. Fearn and C. A. R. Gibb.

Engineer Commander Edwin Williamson.

Engineer Lieut. S. J. Armstrong.

Lieut. Royal Marines, L. L. Jones.

Surgeon Commander A. E. Malone, M.B., B.A., D.P.H.

Paymaster Lieut.-Commander J. F. Stephens.

Sub.-Lieut. G. M. Pares.

Commissioned Eng. J. C. Robinson.

Gunners P. J. J. Cullum, D.S.C., E. V. Potter and F. H. Jones.

Warrant Engineer D. U. Brown.

Warrant Shipwright S. L. T. Trenwith.

Schoolmaster H. P. Pearce.

Paymaster Midshipman N. E. Denning.

NEW HEAD NAMED BY CUNARD LINE

Harold P. Borer has been appointed general passenger manager of the Cunard and Anchor Lines at New York. His appointment will be effective August 1, it is stated. Mr. Borer was born in Brooklyn October 4, 1892, and was educated at New York public schools, Commercial High School and Pulcifer Institute, joining the Cunard service in March, 1910, entering the saloon passenger and tourist departments.

During the war he served in the British Ministry of Shipping as Director of Embarkation in charge of troop movements. It was in this capacity that his administrative ability was at first recognized and after the Armistice he returned to the Cunard Line as assistant general passenger manager.

Inspects City's Namesake

At the invitation of her owners, John Coughlan Limited, Vancouver, Mayor Carl Pendray stepped on board the Ss. City of Victoria in drydock at Esquimalt this morning and was shown over the city's namesake. After the tour His Worship complimented her master on the trim vessel which was turned out at the Vancouver yards of the firm. It was a sample of B.C. production that he took great pleasure in seeing, stated the Mayor, in climbing over the side.

MARINE NOTES

Making good time despite fog reported off the coast the Admiral line Emma Alexander docked at 11.30 last night, and cleared at 1 a.m. to-day for Seattle. She had a full passenger list. The Dorothy Alexander of the same line got away for the South at 11 p.m. with another capacity passenger list.

The C.G.M.M. Canadian Observer made port overnight and cleared again for Vancouver after a light discharge here. She is inbound from San Francisco in the coastal trade of the line.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SATURDAY, AUGUST 8

A day of conflicting interests is presaged from the contradictory planetary auguries. While those in the employment of others are under excellent auspices for recognition, favors or advancement if qualified, and others may seek honors or preferment, yet the financial outlook is not an encouraging one. New projects are under an adverse figure. Speculation and all risky ventures are warned against, and complications may arise through rash or hasty conduct. Happier conditions prevail in home and heart affairs.

Those whose birthday it is are warned against loss by speculation or other hasty or ill-considered investments. New enterprises should be carefully considered. There is a more propitious rule in heart and home affairs. A child born on this day may be disposed to be prodigal and extravagant in its money matters and may lose through speculation. It may be overfond of pleasure and society and should do best in the employment of others.

JAPANESE MOTORSHIP CARRIES BUMPER SILK CARGO FROM YOKOHAMA

Beating her wirelessed time of arrival by four hours the N.Y.K. Atago Maru made port at 9.30 last night from the Orient with a bumper cargo. Captain S. Oya reported a smooth crossing with four days of fog when nearing this coast. One passenger had the ship to himself, M. Sasaki, a missionary bound for Seattle on furlough.

For Victoria the Atago carried approximately 200 tons, made up of thirty cases silk goods, 230 cases of porcelain, 625 cases of tea, and a large shipment of rattan furniture. The porcelain and rattan may be subjected to fumigation at Vancouver if their packing proves to be fodder, as now suspected.

The Atago, for her terminal port, carried 3,809 bales of silk, 61 cases of silk goods, 1,865 cases of tea, 6,192 cases of porcelain, 300 packages of brown rice, 900 packages of lily bulbs, 3,239 cases of canned crabs, and a large general freight.

On the first leg of her second round trip across the Pacific, completed last night, the N.Y.K. liner averaged slightly better than 12.5 knots an hour. Her time was cut down, however, by heavy fog on the last of her trip, which slowed down a general average that would have showed up considerably more. She shifted to Seattle at 1 a.m.

Her master, S. Oya, is proud of his vessel. She is the first large motorship of the line and a sister ship to the Asuka Maru. The Atago was built at the Leith yards, her master spending four months there while the finishing touches were being put to his craft. While on this mission Capt. Oya took occasion to tour Scotland, and there learned to play golf. Now an enthusiastic golfer he carries his clubs in a locker of the cabin, and loses no legitimate occasion to have a round on shore.

Beautifully finished inside and out the Atago Maru marks a wonderful stride in the construction of Japanese freighter. On her return to Yokohama this time she will have completed two round trips to this coast.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

CHAMBER TO TOUR ISLAND WEST COAST

Party Will Leave on Maquinna Tuesday, September 1

Preparations are under way and applications for reservations are being accepted for the tour of the West Coast of Vancouver Island to be made on the Princess Maquinna by members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Plans were outlined in the following letter before the directors this afternoon.

"In line with the increased interest of this Chamber of Commerce in the still further development of Vancouver Island, and the business tributary thereto, it has been unanimously decided to organize a members' tour of the West Coast.

"A special committee is attending to the details, it having been decided to leave Victoria on the Ss. Maquinna at 10.45 p.m. on Tuesday, September 1. To those who have made the West Coast trip it needs no recommendation, and to the many who have contemplated the trip there awaits an exceptionally interesting and profitable experience, special arrangements having been made for the reception of the party at the many points en route, the itinerary being as follows:

Pt. Renfrew, Carmanah, Clo-oose, Banfield, San Mateo, Uchucklesit, Pt. Alberni, Ecoole, Sechart, Ucluelet, Tofino, Clayoquot, Christie's School, Ahousat, Sydney Inlet, Hesquiat, Nootka Cannery, Centre Island, Kyuquot Whaling Station, Kyuquot Village, Quatsino, Jeune Landing, Port Alice.

"The demand already for accommodation would indicate that those intending to participate should lose no time in making reservations."

Children Tell Story of Double Tragedy in North

Petersburg, Alaska, Aug. 7.—Federal authorities declared here yesterday that two girls, five and three years old, had told them on Monday Tom Rise beat his wife on board his boat, threw her overboard and then jumped into the water himself, leaving the children alone on the moving craft.

Rise recently married Mrs. Hogue, widow of a wealthy Petersburg merchant.

The craft beached itself and the two girls crawled off the ship when the tide went out and walked to a cannery three miles up the beach.

The five-year-old child, which was an adopted daughter of the two adults, said her parents had been drinking.

The authorities have been dragging Wrangell Narrows, south of here, for the bodies.

Gulf Islands—Additional service to Gulf Islands. Princess Royal leaves Victoria 11 a.m. every Tuesday, calling at Port Washington, Ganges Harbor, Mayne Island and thence to Vancouver. •••

MACMILLAN PARTY DESCRIBE SUDDEN CHARGE BY WALRUS

Infuriated Herd Charge Exploration Party

Washington, Aug. 7.—A fight with a herd of walrus was described by Lieut.-Commander MacMillan of the MacMillan Arctic Expedition in a message received last night by the National Geographic Society here.

The message, dated yesterday and relayed by A. A. Collins of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, related that "in a walrus hunt yesterday three members of the Peary's crew, in a Bowdoin boat, were attacked by an infuriated herd of at least 100 walrus."

The kyack of one of the Eskimos aiding in the hunt was capsized, but he was rescued.

SWIMMERS READY FOR GRUELLING RACE

Thrilling Contest Is Expected To-morrow

At Least Dozen Swimmers Will Compete in Times Swim From Causeway to Gorge; Thousands of Spectators Will Cheer Contestants on Their Way; Audrey Griffin and Johnny Cameron Are Sure to Have Grim Struggle

At least one dozen swimmers will take off from the Causeway float in front of the Empress Hotel to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in the annual Times swim through Victoria. Every-one of the dozen expects to make the Gorge bridge, which marks the finishing point of the longest swimming race on the Pacific Coast.

Interest is particularly keen in the event and it is expected that close to 10,000 spectators will witness the race. The Times swim has become the premier sporting event in the city and draws tremendous crowds. The Causeway is always crammed with people at the start and the bridges under which the swimmers pass, the docks and points along the route and the finishing point are jammed with spectators who wish to see and cheer the competitors on their way.

The entries so far received by the sporting editor of The Times are as follows:

Audrey Griffin, Y.M.C.A.
Dordina Daisy Jones, V.A.S.C.
Jack Kinsman, V.A.S.C.
Bert Buller, V.A.S.C.
Johnny Cameron, of Vancouver.
Dick Burnett, Langford Lake.
W. T. Stanyon, V.A.S.C.
Steve Barclay, V.A.S.C.
Bill Robertson, Y.M.C.A.
Bill Dickinson, Y.M.C.A.
Jackie Clyde, V.A.S.C.

Owing to the fact that entries do not close until late to-night it is expected that others may decide to compete and swell the number on the starter's barge to-morrow.

VETERAN EXPECTED

Celmer Ross, of the Elks, who won the veteran's prize last year and has been a competitor and a finisher for many years past, is expected to be among those who will yet send in their entries.

Unfortunately the Wellburn family will not be represented this year. Gracie Wellburn is at present holidaying in California. She has finished third in the last four races. Tommy Wellburn, holder of many swimming records, does not intend to compete owing to his inability to train for the long grind. Tommy swam second two years ago and had to leave the water after passing the C.N.R. bridge last year owing to a cramp.

SHOULD BE CLOSE

A thrilling race, probably one of the greatest in the history of the event, will likely be staged. Johnny Cameron, the present holder, has been training hard, and has his over-arm stroke working smoothly. He is determined to retain the cup. Just as determined to regain the cup is Audrey Griffin, winner for eight straight years. She was beaten by Cameron last year. Audrey is in great shape, and will give Cameron the race of his life.

Two other swimmers who must be figured in the race are Jack Kinsman and Bert Buller, two huskies who can stand cold water and keep up a good pace all the way.

Through the courtesy of the J.B.A.A. contestants will be permitted to dress there.

The rules governing the swim are as follows:

1. The race will be under control of the referee from the time the swimmers enter the water until the finish, the referee having power to disqualify any contestant for any breach of the rules.
2. Entries to appear at the starting raft promptly at 2.15 o'clock.
3. No swimmer will be allowed to enter the race unless accompanied by a pilot.
4. Pilots are to take up their position fifty yards distant from the starting raft at 2.30 o'clock.
5. Clothes of swimmer to be taken care of by his or her pilot.
6. Any swimmer touching the boat or canoe of his or her pilot will be disqualified.
7. Pilots will not be allowed to go ahead of their entries until the G.T.P. docks have been passed.

Officials of the race will be as follows:

Referee—James Stewart.
Clerk of the course—Capt. Hansen, Marine and Fisheries Department.
Judges—S. R. Bowden, R. W. Hibberson, Dan O'Sullivan and Staff-Sergt. Wright.
Announcer—V. J. Dunn, secretary B.C. branch of C.A.S.A.
Timekeeper—W. H. Wilkerson.
Starter—Archie Wills.
Doctor—Dr. Denton Holmes.

Spokane Boy Looms As Golf Champ of The Public Links

Garden City, N.Y., Aug. 7.—Out of a barrage of divots late yesterday came eight stars of public links golf, still standing after a furious battle in the first and second rounds of match play in their fourth annual national tournament, being played at the Salisbury Country Club.

In the midst of the engagement there arose a Wall which has every chance of standing off invasion—little Johnny Wall of Spokane, Wash., twice runner up in his State tournament and once holder of his city championship. For a time also his brother, Jimmy, claimed recognition in the lower bracket, threatening a battle between brothers.

Nelson Davies of Cleveland, the medalist, with 147, was first to go down before the lad from the Pacific Coast by 4 and 3. The result made Johnny a prime favorite and through the second round he lived up to the confidence placed in him by conquering Bill Barth of New York, 3 and 2. Both times he neared par figures, but "forgot each hole after he played it."

Duncan Tennis

Special to The Times

Duncan, Aug. 7.—Some very good matches were seen in the first day's play of the Duncan Lawn Tennis Club's annual open tournament which commenced Wednesday, particularly in the men's doubles. Mostly local players were seen, as the outside entrants were not called upon to play until Thursday.

The results were:

LADIES' SINGLES

Mrs. Finlayson, South Cowichan, defeated Miss R. Richards, James Island, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Miss Wallich, South Cowichan, defeated Mrs. Lauder, Duncan, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

LADIES' DOUBLES

Mrs. Christmas and Miss Bond defeated Mrs. de Labiliere and Miss Sherwin, 6-0, 6-3.

Mrs. Lauder and Miss Robertson defeated Mrs. Aldersey and Mrs. Morten, 6-4, 6-1.

MIXED DOUBLES

Mrs. Armstrong and F. L. Kingston defeated Miss Wallich and W. E. Corfield, 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Bond and F. Hoey defeated Miss Graham and Hughes Garnett, 6-1, 6-2.

Mr. and Mrs. Christmas defeated Miss Pegg and Waller, 6-3, 7-5.

MEN'S SINGLES

C.P.R. Confident Of Winning Second Battle To-morrow

Will Meet Nanaimo, Upper Island Champs at Royal Athletic Park

Forbes Will Hurl For Locals; Game Starts at 5.30; Large Crowd Expected

With the best team they can muster the C.P.R. will enter their game to-morrow with Nanaimo in the second game of the British Columbia play-offs for the Island championship full of confidence. The battle will commence at 5.30 o'clock with Murray and Boyd of Vancouver as umpires. One of the largest crowds of the season is expected.

Last Saturday the railroaders journeyed to Nanaimo and met defeat at the hands of the up-Islanders by the close score of 3-1, in a real pitchers' duel. The locals were considerably weakened through being without the services of Art Minnis, Bill More and also Norm Forbes, who was not allowed to play by the B.C.A.B.A. Even with a weakened team the local gave Nanaimo the battle of their lives. They held the Coal City team on even terms until the eighth inning, when a lucky home run drove in two runs which cinched the victory.

ALL REGULARS ON DECK

To-morrow the C.P.R. will have all their regular players on hand, while sanction was received from the B.C. governing body yesterday, to allow Forbes to pitch in the play-offs.

Norm Forbes, who will do the hurling for the C.P.R., is expected to give the Nanaimo sluggers a difficult task in connecting with the pill. Norm has been holding warming up work-outs all week and reports his arm to be in fine shape. He pitched a great game against St. Paul on Monday night, and hopes to go as good to-morrow.

Nesbitt wil most likely be Nanaimo's choice for the mound. He hurled a great game last week, allowing the C.P.R. only three hits, while he struck out fourteen. Should he pitch in the second game the local batters will have to hit the ball better if they want to pull through with a victory.

Should the C.P.R. win to-morrow a third game will be neecssary to decide the Island champions, and it may be played on neutral grounds.

The teams for to-morrow will be as follows:

C.P.R.—Art Minins, Colin Campbell, Norm Forbes, Harold Featherstone, Falconer Campbell, Harry Copas, Roy Copas, Dave Richdale and Bill More.

Naanimo — Aitken, Rice, Brown, Tenney, Courtenay, Milburn, Beattie, Nesbitt and Perry.

Rickard Now Busy Lining Up Tunney And Harry Wills

Dempsey Definitely Out of Picture For Time; Signs to Fight Wills Next Year

New York, Aug. 7.—Announcement of the signing of Jack Dempsey by Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons, of Michigan City, Ind., to fight Harry Wills, his colored challenger, some time next year, taroused only mild interest in the East. Dempsey's previous statements, indicating that he expected the fight to be promoted by Tex Rickard and the silence of Jack Kearns, coupled with the champion's desire to remain inactive this Fall, turned the attention of Metropolitan boxing enthusiasts to the boom for a fight between Gene Tunney and Wills next month.

Two promoters are in the field for this fight. Rickard, following a conference with Paddy Mullins, Wills's manager, was at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., to-day, conferring with Gene Tunney. He seeks the battle for the Yankee Stadium.

Polo Grounds A.C. officials also opened negotiations with Wills and Tunney.

Women's Half-mile Swim Record Broken

Detroit, Aug. 7.—A new world's mark for the half-mile swim for women was set here yesterday by Ethel McGarry, competing in the National A.A.U. outdoor swimming championships for women when she swam the distance in 12 minutes and 57 seconds, bettering the mark of 13 minutes 19 seconds held by Gertrude Ederle, New York.

At the end of the day's events the team of the New York Women's Swimming Association had amassed a safe lead in the race for the team championships.

QUEBEC RIFLE SHOOT

Montreal, Aug. 7—The Quebec Rifle Association will hold its annual prize meeting on August 12, 13 and 14.

The entrants include riflemen from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Ontario and Quebec. The matches will be held at the Point Aux Trembles Rifle Range here.

Gertrude Ederle Postpones Attempt But Lillian May Go

Boulogne, Aug. 7—Announcement was this morning made that the attempt of Miss Gertrude Ederle to swim across the Channel from the French to the English coast has been postponed until August 17. Although there was a change in the weather this morning, making conditions for a channel swim none too suitable, Miss Lillian Harrison, the Argentine girl, may still start in accordance with her plans to-night. . . .

Arrangements had been made for Miss Ederle to start for the English coast about 10.30 to-night, twenty minutes before Miss Harrison, but she became unexpectedly physically indisposed and her trainers and advisers recommended postponement until the next favorable tide which is on August 17.

Dunkirk, France, Aug. 7—Jane Sion, the French woman swimmer, who barely failed to swim the English Channel Tuesday, has returned home and will not try again before next year. She feels that her record for women swimmers in approaching nearer the English shore than any other woman who has attempted the difficult Channel crossing, is enough reward f orthis season.

Mlle. Sion eagerly denied that cold or fatigue overcame her Tuesday night, although her companions gave that as a reason for her giving up the struggle.

"It was a stroke of cafard," she said, using the soldier's term for discouragement in explaining why she left the water.

This gives the Hillcrests the championship of the first half and the right to meet the winners of the second half for the city and district title. The second game of the series for the winners of the second half will be played at the Central Park to-night between the "Y" and Foul Bay. In the first game on Wednesday evening the "Y" won out by a large score and a victory for them this evening will give them the right to play off with the Hillcrests.

Important Cricket Matches May Bring Forth a Champion

Victoria Travels to Duncan To-morrow to Meet Cowichan; Five C's Play Incogs

Two Teams Now Tied For First Place; Second Inter-city Game Next Saturday

To-morrow's cricket matches in the "A" Division may bring forth the new holder of the Virtue Cup, emblematic of the Victoria and district championship. The three teams battling for the lead will all be engaged and it is possible that the existing tie between Victoria and the Five C's will be broken.

Victoria faces the hardest task inasmuch as they must travel to Duncan to meet Cowichan, the present champions. The up-islanders have proved unbeatable on their own grounds but Victoria will muster their strongest eleven in an effort to subdue the champions. If Cowichan succeeds in winning they will climb pretty close to the leaders and stand a chance of repeating their success of last year.

FIVE C'S OPPOSE INCOGS

The only match to be served to local enthusiasts will be between the Five C's and Incogs at Beacon Hill. On past showings the Five C's should win, but the Incogs have a strong side which, should it get going properly, will provide plenty of trouble for the Five C's. The Five C's seem determined to stay at the top and they will no doubt put their best side in the field.

If Five C's win and Victoria loses at Cowichan the former will be well lined up for the championship. Should Victoria win and the Five C's lose the title will more likely pass into the former's hands.

The matches will be watched with the keenest interest.

The Victoria and District Cricket Association is now busying picking the team which will proceed to Vancouver a week from to-morrow to play the second inter-city match for the Flumerfelt Cup. The Vancouver "B" eleven will be here the same day for a match with Victoria's second side.

Sons Score Easy Win Over Sidney, Cinching Title

Defeat Millmen 7-2 at Royal Athletic Last Night; Are Intermediate Champions

By virtue of their win over Sidney last night by the score of 7-2 the Sons of Canada intermediate lacrosse team cinched the Victoria and district championship. The game was fast from start to finish and was enjoyed by the crowd of spectators.

Oliver put the Sons in the lead when he secured the ball from the face-off and went through the entire opposition beating Crossley, the Sidney goalie, from close quarters. Sidney fought hard to even up the score and their efforts were rewarded ten minutes later when Lionel Crossley found the net. Jack Taylor gave the Natives a lead again with a fine goal, and just before the end of the quarter Chapman scored another.

There was no scoring in the second quarter, but in the third John Taylor added two more goals to the Sons' total on fine individual plays. In the final quarter the Sons added two more. Bryant and McPhee doing the scoring. Bowcott scored Sidney's second counter in this quarter.

Joe Hancock refereed and the teams were as follows:

Sons of Canada—Jones, Jack Taylor, Oliver, Brown, Smith, Bryant, Cann, Gilson and McPhee.

Sidney—J. Crossley, Hill, Gilman, H. Nunn, G. Bowcott, A. Nunn, Reid, Anderson, Clanton, B. Bowcott, L. Crossley, Ward and David.

Vancouver Oarsmen Will Not Pay Visit to Australia in 1925

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—Officials of the Vancouver Rowing Club yesterday decided not to send a crew to Australia this year. It was felt that there was not sufficient time to make necessary arrangements so that the tour would be a success. It is possible that the idea may be favorably looked upon next year.

Chicago, Aug. 7—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, is ready to defend his title against Billy Wells, the British battler in ten rounds at East Chicago to-night. Though not regarded as a heavy hitter, the British fighter is regarded as having an excellent chance to win on points.

Reds Help To Shove Giants Down Ladder

Luque Too Much for New York Batters and Cincinnati Win Easily, While Pittsburg Crash Through to Win Over Brooklyn; Washington Climbs to Within One Game of Philadelphia in Spectacular Dash for Pennant

Chicago, Aug. 7—Senor Adolfo Luque, of Cincinnati, yesterday answered in masterful fashion the plea of baseball fandom against a fifth consecutive National League pennant for New York, by letting the Giants down with six hits for a 9 to 1 victory, while Pittsburg was solving Dazzy Vance's slants for a 5 to 1 win over Brooklyn, thus boosting the Pirates' margin of leadership to 2½ games.

The world champion Washington club climbed to within one full game of the leading Philadelphia team in the American League, by winning both games of a double header from St. Louis by scores of 5 to 4 and 10 to 3, while the Athletics divided a twin bill with Cleveland, losing the first, 9 to 6, and winning the second 6 to 1.

New York	58	43	.574

BRINGS BRILLIANT GOLF PARTY HERE

HARRY B. McMEAL

Why Harry B. McMeal, publisher Golfers' Magazine, chose the scenic beauties of the Pacific Northwest for the first golf excursion in the history of the world is readily understood by those familiar with his system of conducting his own business. He not only has selected for the office of his publication a beautiful stone mansion on Grand Boulevard in Chicago, but he has made the spacious grounds a garden of flowers and shrubbery and fitted up two of the lawns with miniature golf courses for the delectation of his assistants.

McMeal and his fellow workers work in an atmosphere similar to that of a fine home, and when they step from their desks they can recreate themselves on the lawns or try their skill on the links maintained for their use. Prizes are given for those who win frequent competitions.

This artistic sense was born with McMeal, who not only conducted the first newspaper column in the country, the Topical Talker of the Pittsburg Dispatch, but for several years was one of the cleverists poets in America. His present duties preclude much attention to verse, but he stills lives the poetry of the great outdoors through his heralding of golf. He is a member of Olympia Fields Country Club, Chicago, whose four 18 holes links and million dollar club house make it the largest in the world.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Aug. 7 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Further disposition was evident to-day to follow the buying side, which was rather pronounced shortly before the close yesterday. A resumption of purchases, while somewhat general, was specifically confined to specialties, which in some cases made new highs. This quite naturally lent a firmer tone to dealings and an enhancement in quotations before the close was the result.

While further improvement might occur as regards price trend, the fact remains that values are at a level offering attractive opportunity to accept profits, which we advise.

New York, Aug. 7 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: Aggressive strength was maintained in to-days market, under the stimulus of urgent buying of United States Steel which forged to the highest levels attained since the break late last Winter and in the early Spring.

With the principal industrials market moving vigorously ahead, the whole market gained momentum on the upside and bullish demonstrations in pool controlled issues grew increasingly energetic.

Rails participated in the forward movement with the greatest vigor developed in several months. Substantial gains occurred in New York Central, Nickel Plate, C. and O., Pere Merquette and the Erie issues.

In view of the buoyancy of the general list little thought was given to the increase of $10,000,000 which took place during the last week in bills discounted.

This reflection of expanding industrial and commercial activity afforded a forceful commentary on the soundness of surrounding business. It is this situation which has resulted in advancing security prices the past few months.

Clidden was turned over in enormous volume at the best levels of the current movement, reflecting activity stirred up by insiders in preparation for the announcement of $2 dividend rate on the stock.

International Combustion Engineering was another favorite, moving into record territory at 48 South Porto Rico Sugar soared 6 points to high ground for the year at 89¾. Strength in this stock is based on the belief that the directors will place it on an annual $8 dividend basis, instead of $6 now being paid, or declare an extra dividend of $2 at the meeting scheduled for the middle of August.

Issues involved in the Van Sweringen system displayed special strength, responding the Senator Watson's letter to the Interstate Commerce Commission, urging approval for the proposed merger.

Nickel Plate jumped 4¼ points to 130¼, while new highs on the movement were established by C. & O. at 100⅞, Pere Marquette at 68, Eries first preferred at 40⅞ and the common at 31¼. General Railway Signal sold at 247⅛, a gain of more than 100 points from its initial transaction on the Exchange a few months ago.

Placing of a $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 signal order by N.Y. Central with General Railway Signal has verified the opinion frequently expressed that the company is in line for huge business from various railroads with respect to installation of automatic train control.

It is obvious that the placing of so large an order with General Railway Signal by one of the greatest roads should have the effect of attracting the attention of other railroads. Not only has such action been taken, but it seems that public interest in these safety devices will be developed to such an extent that passengers will prefer to ride on roads so equipped. Bullish enthusiasm was kept at fever pitch in the last hour by aggressive buying of Steel common which attained a further high on the current advance at 122¾. With Steel furnishing such impressive leadership, the general market continued buoyant and prices in the closing levels were at the session's best.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 7 (By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)—Wheat: May made a new high on the crop and other deliveries had a sharp upturn. The chief consideration back of the buying was the strength in the cash situation. Crop news was a little more favorable, the heat and drought spell in Canada being broken, this had little influence, offerings were extremely light and there was aggressive buying credited to local traders and to general outside investors the latter were particularly important. Receipts here were estimated at 123 cars. Cash trading basis was steady, prices following the advance in futures, shipping sales reported were 195,000 bushels and included 110,000 bushels to exporters.

It was reported that vessel room had been chartered for 1,350,000 bushels to Buffalo. Primary receipts were 1,688,000 bushels last year 3,891,000. There is no promise of any relief from the present stringency in the cash situation, and we believe it will actually become more acute, bringing much better prices.

Corn: General rains over the corn belt brought additional heavy selling but the strength in wheat led to fairly general country offerings and commission houses were good buyers on breaks. Receipts here estimated at ninety-five cars cash trading basis was steady. Primary receipts were 394,000 bushels vs. 582,000 bushels a year ago. Country offerings were firmly held. The market has been heavily liquidated and we would stay off the short side.

Oats: Prices held within a narrow range cash trading basis was steady to half cent higher. This is the third day that cash prices have gained on the futures. We get advices to effect that farm consumption is extraordinary, as oats are being used as a substitute for corn to a larger extent than ever before and the shortage in hay necessitates unusual consumption on the farms. Believe purchases at this level should bring good results.

Rye: There was independent action in this market and prices made an advance of 3 to 4 cents. We have been advocating the purchase of this grain and believe advance has just started. Cash rye on track here today brought three cents better premium than on the last pit sale. Millers are worried over the lack of hedging pressure and buying Sept. to protect themselves against a shortage which seems practically inevitable.

Chicago, Aug. 7 (By B.C. Bond Corporations direct pit wire)—Wheat: All deliveries again to-day made new highs for the current movement, September selling within one cent of the high of the year. Stop loss orders were uncovered on the way up. Houses with eastern connections who recently were the large sellers, were the most active buyers. Rains were reported over parts of the central northwest and resulted in some early selling, but these offerings were absorbed and when new ings were appeared the market was found to be bare of offerings. Weather again unfavorable from Europe. Only any further would take some profits with the view of replacing on fair recessions. Corn was under further pressure. Rains were reported in Iowa and forecast for unsettled over the greater part of the belt. Locals generally on the selling side. We continue to advocate sales of corn on all hard spots.

DRAYTON STATES DEMAND CREATES DOLLAR PREMIUM

Toronto, Aug. 7.—Canadian dollars are at a premium now simply because a demand for them has been created, not because the country is more prosperous than usually, declared Sir Henry Drayton in an address here yesterday.

The demand for Canadian money, he said, had been created by Canada's enormous exports to Great Britain and France, payable in New York funds, by Canada's loans floated in the United States and by the tremendous unseen movement of money due to tourist traffic in Canada.

FIVE-STORY STABLE

The other week, Polonius and Candidate, two champion chestnut horses, walked down seventy-nine stairs from their stable beds in North London and trotted off to the horse show at Richmond.

The well-known catering firm that owns Polonius and Candidate have solved their horse-housing problem by stabling their animals in a five-story mansion built of fireproof concrete.

A wide concrete staircase, carpeted with soft peat, leads from street to stable. Up this the horses walk to bed, and come downstairs to work in the morning. Each floor is divided into two dormitories—double rows of stalls separated by wide gangways. Here the horses feed, sleep, and are groomed. Large windows give excellent light and ventilation to what must surely be one of the most remarkable stables in London.

WHEAT RISES

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Wheat scored a big new advance in price here today, September rising 6⅝c a bushel to $1.66½. Indications of large clearances of wheat from here next week by Lake steamers had much to do with the upturn.

DETROIT TENNIS

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 7.—Four tennis players stood last night with championship aspirations undimmed as a result of victories in the fourth day of play in the western clay court tennis championship tournament at the Detroit Tennis Club.

With the same regularity that has characterized the tournament, favorites came through the fifth round play.

Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles and his doubles partner, Walter Wesbrook, together with Lucien Williams of Chicago, were the hope of the West to capture the championship. Kirk Reid of Cleveland, thirteenth ranking player of the United States, is the lone eastern star.

Lucien Williams won the right to contest with Snodgrass for the finals by disposing of Walter T. Hayes, veteran Chicagoan. Wesbrook and Reid play in the other semi-final match.

Snodgrass was an easy victor over J. D. Cumming, Windsor, Ont., taking the match in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

Nanaimo, Aug. 7. — William Brown, South Wellington, will head the Upper Island Football Association for the ensuing year, having been elected president at the annual meeting here on Wednesday evening.

The body decided to encourage young players during the coming year and granted permission to Ladysmith, Cumberland United, Nanaimo City and Nanaimo G.W.V.A. teams to enter the Pacific Coast League, with the understanding that none of the games will be allowed to interfere with the Upper Island Cup tier

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, Aug. 7—Decided strength at Chicago transformed the wheat market here to-day from an early lapse of weakness into brisk activity before the close. Final quotations showed a net gain of 3¼ cents for October delivery at 149⅜, with December even stronger, finishing at $1.46⅜, an advance of 3½. May jumped to 151, up 3⅛.

Opening in listless fashion, the market quickly eased off on scattered selling by longs and at the low point October touched $1.45. With the sharp advance at Chicago, prices here made a spontaneous recovery. Lack of offerings helped the bulls force prices upward. The seaboard reported that there were some small buying orders from Europe, with sales overnight estimated at 300,000 bushels.

The coarse grain markets with the exception of rye were dull with very little foreign demand prevailing.

Winnipeg, Aug. 7 (R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat. Decided strength at Chicago to-day with prices advancing about 6 cents, dragged our market up about 3½ cents, closing figures being around the top at 3¼ to 3⅜ cents higher. Around the opening the market had a rather heavy appearance with every indication of going lower, but after declining about one cent under the previous close reacted strongly and followed the steady advance at Chicago.

Chicago reported that heavy buying of wheat by houses with Eastern connections was responsible for the advance which put their September on new high ground for the movement, and with indications that clearances of wheat would be heavy out of Chicago next week, reducing stocks materially. The market was a big broad affair, but received a lot of its strength from Chicago. Very little of short sellings and most of the offerings coming from longs who were taking profits so that bullish interests were able to force prices upward without taking much wheat.

We would advise caution in following bulges too far as it must be remembered that Canada is on exportable basis, while the United States is on a purely domestic basis and the spread between here and Chicago can easily widen out considerably. There is a good foreign demand for nearby wheat, but this is largely due to the unsettled weather in Western Europe, which is delaying harvesting with old stocks being reduced rapidly. European crops are generally very favorable, and it is not thought the wet weather has done much damage. Russia continues to sell wheat to the United Kingdom and the continent.

Coarse grains: Very light featureless trade in coarse grains with demand poor. Oats and barley were steady, closing fractionally higher, while rye reflecting the strength in wheat, closed 3⅛ cents up.

Flax: Firm steady market, with final figures 1½ to 2 cents higher. Offerings small, with demand only ordinary. Undertone firm.

BRITISH COLUMBIA BOND CORP. LTD. — BONDS STOCKS GRAIN INSURANCE

Before the War the Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Governments borrowed money at much cheaper rates than they can at the present time. Many Bond Dealers are of the opinion that the former rates will return before long. This means a continued rise in bond prices and a large profit to those holding long term bonds; it also means that those holding long term securities will continue to secure a high rate of interest for many years.

We suggest the above form of securities coming due in from 20 to 40 years. We suggest careful selection and will ask you to consult us before purchasing.

HIGH SCHOOL THRONGED AT CLOSING PROGRAMME

Mrs. Wilcox, A.T.C.M., mezzo-soprano, who gave in dainty fashion "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" (Haydn); the small orchestra of strings composed of students of the Summer School, in the finale from Haydn's "Symphony in C," with T. C. M. Wickett at the piano, who also ably and supportingly accompanied throughout these numbers; and the baritone solo by T. R. McLean, "On the Road to Mandalay" (Kipling-Speaks). Mr. McLean has a voice of excellent quality and seemingly is a keen student. This singer should go far in the sphere of his choice.

Following this came the junior and senior demonstration classes numbering altogether 120 voices of varying ages from seven to thirteen being "recommended" children from the local public schools. The work of these classes has already been commented upon as heard at a special rehearsal during their hours of tuition a few days ago under Frederick Waddington, and their several renderings last evening were again surprisingly accomplished, delighting all present in no mistaken manner and demonstrating to a degree the interest the young singers themselves take in their singing, and the results attained from the excellent tutorship of Mr. Waddington in such a short space of time. Miss Dorothy Morton again accompanied these classes in skilful and discerning manner.

The concluding half of the evening's preparations was devoted to folk dancing in which groups of young ladies from the demonstration class, ranging from Grades II to VIII and the Students' Section, under the instruction of Miss Cotsworth of the Vancouver Public Schools, gave clever and pretty examples of the characteristic dances of different countries. All these were in costume and were prettily and cleverly executed. Among those especially effective were the Butterfly, Gathering of Peaspods, Flemish, Dutch, Jenny Pluck Pears, Russian Sleigh, Japanese, Welsh Shepherd, the Minuet and Tarantelle Dances all accompanied by Mr. Wickett at the piano.

Mr. John Kyle, the principal, presided, and directed the evening's promptly-executed arrangements.

Presentation of certificates and closing exercises this morning concluded the year's highly successful and well-attended Summer school.

SERIAL STORY

"THE LOVE CYCLE"

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

OLD ACQUAINTANCE

Jane came to Mansfield's office without an inkling of whom her employer would be. Otherwise, not even her need for work could have driven her to sacrifice her pride to the extent of receiving money from the son-in-law of the man who had robbed her of her inheritance.

She had drifted back to her home town for two reasons. One was to escape from Ellis Haynes, who had abandoned all effort to support himself and had come to depend on her for his very existence. The other concerned her mother, who in her later years felt the call of home and the desire to see again the familiar streets where she had once driven in the handsomest carriage in town, rich, beautiful, socially prominent, the envied of all who knew her.

They lived modestly, she and Jane, in a little apartment in another side of the town which had once known them. The railroad passed their windows. Engines shrieked by at night, leaving a trail of flame and cinders and by day, Mrs. Marlowe would look up from her interminable needlework to watch trains pass and note the drawing room cars and the diners with happy prosperous people taking their ease.

To Jane, the return to the city where she had passed a happy, carefree childhood, was a painfully hard experience. She had been through much since her marriage to Ellis Haynes. She had taken jobs here and there to support her mother and herself.

Many of her experiences had been more unpleasant and humiliating than the incident in Armstrong's office. Her peculiar type of beauty combined with an arresting charm made her attractive to men. There were many who would willingly have taken advantage of her necessity for work.

It was vaguely known that she had a worthless husband whom she practically supported, and this fact contributed to the interest and curiosity she aroused.

The effect of these experiences on Jane was disillusionment, bitterness toward all men. She had no desire to feel again a sentimental interest, such as the ephemeral infatuation for Ellis Haynes. No man appealed to her heart. She worked for them and with them, shoulder to shoulder, but she felt for them only tolerance and rather often a good deal of contempt. She went, therefore, to the headquarters of the charity organization which had sent to the agency for a secretary, with a feeling of resignation.

When she was ushered into the office assigned to Mansfield as chairman of the charity drive, she became aware that her new employer was a man who immediately suggested strength and power and accomplishment. He wore the detached air of one whose mind is centered on big interests. The scrutiny he gave her was quick and keen and analytical.

He told her that she would do, directed her where to get her supplies and turned back to his own work with a detached air that spelled courtesy but complete disinterest.

Jane had recognized Mansfield instantly for he had changed little from the boy she had known. He was a handsome man with the lithe-ness of youth, despite the premature touch of gray on his temples. His eyes were brilliant, keen and penetrating, and there was power in the set of his jaw and the curve of his nostrils. He looked what he was—a man who had succeeded through ability and his own efforts.

She knew that he did not recognize her, although several times in the weeks that followed, while they worked side by side, she caught him looking at her with the slightly puzzled expression of one whose memory cord has been touched. But apparently, he could not place her in his past acquaintance.

They worked pleasantly together and little by little began to chat in friendly fashion over this and that incident of the day.

One morning he said to her:

"Oh, by the way, Mrs. Haynes, my wife is giving a tea next Sunday for the active workers in the drive. She told me to ask you if you cared to come. It's quite informal, so she did not send out cards."

Jane thanked him pleasantly but declined on the plea of another engagement.

She knew that Helen Mansfield would recognize her instantly, even if she could have brought herself, out of keen curiosity, to break bread with the daughter of the man who robbed her father.

THE MEETING

The meeting between Jane and Helen Mansfield was inevitable. It occurred a few weeks later.

Jane was in the office alone, late one afternoon, when the door opened suddenly without the preliminary of a knock or even an announcement from the switchboard girl that there was a visitor to see Mansfield.

It was a full minute before Jane recognized the plump, handsomely gowned woman, swathed in furs, as the Helen Mansfield of her girlhood. Helen had changed vastly. Too little exercise and over-indulgence in rich food had spoiled her figure. She dressed too elaborately and with her pretty coloring gone; her face under her plumed hat looked rather weak and babyish and stupid.

Beside her, Jane was still a slim girl. In fact, so little had the years done to her, in spite of her hard experiences, that Helen Mansfield recognized her without hesitation.

She raised her head and said haughtily:

"So you are my husband's secretary? Why didn't he tell me?"

Jane answered:

"Mr. Mansfield has not recognized me and I have not told him for obvious reasons."

Helen smiled maliciously.

"It must be rather a humiliating situation for you."

A little flush crept up in Jane's smooth cheeks, but her quiet tone did not change when she replied:

"I scarcely think that it is necessary to carry our old fued into a business relationship. I work quite as faithfully for Mr. Mansfield as if I were a total stranger."

"Nevertheless, I don't like the idea at all," Helen told her. "Other people may recognize you and it would cause a lot of gossip if it gets about that Hal is employing the daughter of the family that slandered my father."

"I have more right to bitterness than you, Mrs. Mansfield," Jane reminded her.

"Indeed," Helen's head went up and her eyes flashed. "I don't see how you can say that, because—"

Jane interrupted her coolly.

"Don't you think it is rather futile to re-open the case at this late day? Don't you think we had best let old scores rest. Some day the debt may be paid, but until then we are only bringing up old memories that hurt."

"I don't agree with you at all," Helen declared impatiently, "and I shall certainly tell Hal whom he is employing. If he sees things my way, he will ask you to leave."

Jane's eyes were flashing. She said quickly:

"That won't be necessary, Mrs. Mansfield. When your husband returns, I shall give him my resignation."

"Well, we'll see." Helen drew her furs closer about her. "I haven't time to stop any longer; will you tell my husband, when he returns, to ring me up at home? I have something important to say to him."

She gave the order as she would have given it to a servant and it cut Jane like a whip lash; her yellow eyes glinted dangerously. This was just one added score to settle with Helen Mansfield, she told herself.

When Mansfield came in, half an hour later, he greeted her breezily and began to tell her of the funny incident that had happened that afternoon.

But he received no answering smile from her. She looked strained and her fingers moved nervously in her lap.

He broke off his story abruptly to say:

"What is it, Mrs. Haynes, you look tired; why not go home for the rest of the day, it's late anyway."

She rose and faced him across the desk.

"I'm going home—for good—I have held this position under a misrepresentation, Mr. Mansfield. You did not recognize me, and I saw no reason for recalling myself to your memory, if I gave you good service. That was sufficient, was it not? However, Mrs. Mansfield thinks differently."

He was looking bewildered.

"I say, what is this all about? Who are you, and what has my wife got to do with it, anyway?"

"I am Jane Marlowe," she told him, "and between the houses of Marlowe and Weston there will always exist the old feud."

He flung back his head and laughed.

"You silly child, I am not a Weston. See here, it's really Jane? Jove, you have developed into a beauty. Jane, I feel that I am going to kiss you for old times' sake."

POWER FOR REVENGE

Jane didn't leave her position as Mansfield's secretary in the charity drive as Helen had intended she should.

Mansfield himself persuaded her to stay.

"You're being foolish and over sensitive," he told her. "It's ridiculous to let old feuds interfere with your business career. I apologize for my wife, because she, like most sheltered women, allows bitterness and petty animosities to control her. But you must be bigger than that, if you really expect to succeed. Don't think that I am disloyal to her in this respect, but men must have a broader, more tolerant viewpoint. If you expect to continue in the business world, in constant association with men, you must see and think as they do."

So Jane remained and worked day by day with Mansfield, whom she came more and more to admire and respect. Little by little, she realized that he represented to her an ideal of manhood which her husband had lacked, as nearly as she could see.

She resisted her personal interest in him.

When she discovered an irresistible impulse to lift her eyes from her work and gaze at his strong profile, she bit her lips and forced her gaze to her typewriter keys. When the sound of his footsteps in the outer corridor caused her heart to beat faster, she gave no outer sign, but those were the times when her ready friendliness was missing, when she became abstract and remote.

To be continued.

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 7.—Five lives were lost when an auto carrying nine persons plunged through a fence on the Chelmsford Street bridge in this city early to-day and fell forty feet to the tracks of the Boston & Maine Railroad. Four of the victims were members of one family.

The dead: Fred Christos, driver of the car; William Christos, his brother and Mrs. Portia Celteas and Gladys Christos, their sisters, and Mrs. Anna Christos, wife of William.

Vacilcios Celteas, husband of Mrs. Portia Celteas, Louis Colivas and his wife, Mrs. Katherine Colivas, were probably fatally injured.

MONEYS FROM LAND SALE MAY REDUCE TAXES IN OAK BAY

Future Payments From Reverted Lands May be Put Into Sinking Fund

Providing the proposal meets with the approval of the finance committee, of the Council, all moneys received and to be received by the Oak Bay Municipality from the sale of its reverted lands, including any that might revert to the corporation during the current year, will be used for the purpose of liquidating the municipality's debt.

At the first of the year the $12,458, which has been received from the Oak Bay Lands Limited on capital account, will be placed in the bank for the purpose of liquidating the bank debt. The balance of payments as received will be placed in a special trust or sinking fund to be used over the next four-year period, commencing with 1926, for the purpose of reducing the current general taxation during these years. This suggestion was approved by the Oak Bay Council last night.

According to a statement made by Reeve Herbert Anscomb last night it will be generally understood that these assets, namely the reverted lands, had been acquired over a period of years from revenue. The taxpayers generally have been called upon to pay additional revenue in order to carry on the business of the municipality, he said. The taxpayers should reap the benefit from the sale of assets which they had virtually purchased the Reeve claimed.

The Council was informed of a serious water situation in the Uplands.

F. G. Fowkes, president of the Uplands Golf Club, told the Reeve and Councillors that through lack of water pressure the greens at the club were scorched and in poor condition.

President Fowkes explained to the Council that the club has invested a great amount of money in the greens.

A special committee composed of Reeve Herbert Anscomb, Councillors Hayward and Mearns was appointed by the Council to take up this question of lack of pressure with the city of Victoria.

The communication received from the Saanich Council to appoint a committee to confer with representatives of Saanich and Esquimalt on the question of water supply, was tabled.

The B.C. Agricultural Association was granted permission to hold a race meeting at the Willows from August 15 to 22.

It was also decided by the Council to purchase from the Franco-Canadian Company, 3,600 trees and shrubs located on certain lots in the Uplands, at a cost of $300.

SHRINERS COMPLAIN OF BEING TRICKED BY TALLY-HO OPERATORS

Cry of "This Way For Alzafar Temple" Deceives Visitors

Alleging that sightseeing tally-hos laden with Shriners had been driven into the countryside highways, while the operators threatened the passengers with loss of steamer connections unless each person carried paid one dollar for an unwanted ride, Recorder P. D. Mathis of Alzafar Temple, San Antonio, has taken up the matter with the City Police Commission, and the complaint will probably result in stationing a special police officer at the Inner Harbor terminal.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the Police Board, Commissioner Staneland expressed regrets that such a bad advertisement could have been given the city. He experienced little surprise in view of control over tally-hos and taxis being divided with the City Council. The Police Commission, he feared, could do little save endeavor to prevent repetition of the episode.

This he believed would be best attained by appointment of a special officer to supervise traffic, an office for which he urged the qualifications of Sergeant Boulton. Chief Fry will report upon such an appointment and Commissioner Staneland will prepare a summary of the duties of the new post.

The complaint of Record Mathis of the San Antonio Shrine delegation was as follows:

"About 200 members of Alzafar Temple of San Antonio, Texas, arrived in Victoria on the Princess Marguerite at 12.45 p.m. on June 8, en route to Vancouver, and spent one hour on a sightseeing trip in the city of Victoria.

"On leaving the ship we were directed by a sightseeing line of the said city, 'This way for the Alzafar Temple members.' About 200 of the said members accepted the hospitality of the said trip; but, when returning, each was requested to pay $1 for the trip.

PAY OR WALK

"This was very unexpected and was protested against by some of our members, and instead of going to the dock, the driver drove away into the country and told the party that those who refused to pay could get out, and miss the boat.

"It was not the amount involved, but the principle at stake. It was a clear case of deception and hold-up, and we feel that we were the victims of a poor joke in your city. It was the only time in our whole trip that we received such unpleasant hospitality.

"Most of our party did not wish for a drive, but thinking our friends in Victoria had provided it, did not resist, being forced into these pirate cars, with the above unpleasant results.

"This appears to have been the experience of all the party in different cars, and we feel that somebody in authority should look into this matter in the interest of those who follow."

Happy Family To-day, Father Will Not Hang

Here are the children of Russell Scott. Unless the fight their mother and attorneys made was successful, the state of Illinois would have robbed them of their father. Russell Jr. is in front, Robert is in the centre and Dudley is standing at the rear.

This is Russell Scott, Canadian financier, who was twice saved from the gallows by his wife's efforts, after all hope had been given up. He was successful yesterday in the last effort by his attorneys to prevent his execution.

Mrs. Catherine Scott, whose husband was under sentence of death and was twice saved from the gallows at the last minute. She kept up her desperate fight to save him until yesterday he gained the insane verdict. When the jury brought in its verdict she leaned forward in court in an attitude of prayer.

RUSSELL SCOTT IS DECLARED INSANE

Verdict of Jury After Hearing in Chicago Saves Him From Execution

Chicago, Aug. 7.—In an insane asylum instead of on the gallows Russell Scott, erstwhile Canadian financier, will expiate the murder of a drug clerk in a holdup here.

"Cell shock" insanity, resulting from fifteen months in jail and the ordeals of two narrow escapes from execution, was the verdict of a jury last night in the sanity test which saved him.

The jury's finding and Scott's removal to the Chester Insane Asylum to-day ended a fight for life that probably was the most desperate in Cook County criminal annals. Seven ballots were taken and three hours and forty minutes of deliberation were necessary before the jurors agreed.

Five times since Joseph Maurer was killed in a drugstore opposite the city hall in Chicago in April, 1924, Scott has faced death. Within the last three weeks, a few hours before the death march, Scott was saved once by a week's reprieve and again by a stay of execution issued at 2 o'clock in the morning by Judge J. B. David on a petition declaring him insane.

VERDICT DENOUNCED

"It is a shameful and disgraceful verdict," said Assistant State Attorney Harry F. Pritzker. "Scott is no more insane than any man in this room. The verdict is a victory for the criminal element. They can take life and get away with it. The jurors in this case did not know the first principle of the law involved. They are too ignorant."

The jury began deliberating after five alienists had testified the prisoner had become insane since sentence was pronounced and other alienists and fifteen lay witnesses for the state had said he was mentally normal.

PRISONER WAS NERVOUS

When the verdict was read Scott's mouth twitched nervously and he shifted his position in the chair. He sat motionless at the side of his attorneys while the court entered the judgment on the verdict, and then was hurried from the room as the bailiff adjourned the session.

Mrs. Catharine Scott, the young wife of the prisoner, leaned forward in an attitude of prayer after the verdict was read.

Scott's mother wept and embraced Scott's wife, while Thomas Scott, his aged and crippled father, received the verdict without show of emotion.

Scott, while going to the asylum as insane, would face death on the gallows should he ever be found to have regained his sanity.

LIQUOR ACT FLAW PERMITS SALES TO BOOTLEGGERS

Chief Fry Notified by Victoria Vendor of Supply to Convicted Peddler

No Power to Refuse Sale, Commissioners Informed; Convictions Costly

After conviction in the City Police Court recently, a bootlegger was able to forthwith obtain large supplies from the Victoria Liquor Vendor, Chief of Police John Fry yesterday afternoon informed the City Police Commission.

Commissioner Staneland asked if Commissioner Davidson's denial of such practices by the Provincial liquor vendors was correct, and Chief Fry stated that the Victoria Vendor had notified him of supply to one man followed a few days after conviction and seizure of $370 worth of liquors in his premises. The chief pointed out that, under existing legislation, no power is vested in the Vendor to refuse supplies save to interdicts, and explained that this power only applies to persons squandering their money or injuring their health by intoxication. "Save for such cases, permit holders may buy all the liquor they can pay for," said the chief.

Commissioner Staneland considered that representations should be made to the Provincial Legislature for amendment of the Liquor Act, to give power of cancellation of liquor permits held by persons convicted of selling liquor, and remarked, "It is time Liuqor Commissioner Davidson looked around before saying that this commission does not know what it is talking about."

Chief Fry stressed the great difficulty in obtaining convictions, together with the high cost of employing special operatives to enter resorts and obtain evidence good before the courts. Commissioner Staneland declared that ordinary tourists get into such places with no more introduction than advice from jitneymen, and thought any of the plain clothes men could get evidence in many places.
